PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JAN. 7th 1891.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that we are in mid winter, and building operations are practically at a stand-still, yet we make this week a fair showing of building news, doubly valuable from the fact that it is greatly in advance of the construction work involved. We mention this fact because several thousands of this issue containing our annual report of building operations and sales of real estate for 1890, will be distributed as sample copies. We would suggest a perusal of our own advertisement on the first page of this journal, entitled "Hustling Made Easy." It covers its subject so thoroughly, that further comment here is unnecessary.

WITH this number, we commence our sixth volume and sixth year of publication. We enter into the work of the new year inspired by the great success our efforts have received in the production of a thoroughly practical and useful journal, based upon the idea that architects and builders are sufficiently competent to plan and build houses without our aid, influence or instruction. As an evidence of which, we point with pride, to such magnificent structures as the Penn Mutual, the Brown Building, the Bullitt Building, the Girard Trust, and the many others, which are a source of pride and pleasure to every citizen of Philadelphia and all of which were inspired, planned and constructed by the respective architects and builders without, strange as it may seem, in the face of the egotistical spread of technical instruction found in most building journals—a single suggestion from us. Our province is to report building news, or in other words to gather such information weekly, as is required to aid architects, builders, owners, brokers and manufacturers and dealers in material and machinery needed for construction work. That our conclusions that such a journal was needed, were correct, we have only to refer to our wide-reaching distribution throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Washington, D. C. and the West and South.

We see no reason to justify a change of purpose and shall continue our efforts to produce the best Building newspaper in the world.

The Philadelphia Volksblatt, has kindly remembered us by sending an artistically designed Calendar for 1891.

The total number of Deeds recorded during the administration of Geo. G. Pierie, was 124,793. Total number of mortgages, 79,937.

In our issue of last week, by a typographical error, the name of Mr. Harrison Albright, architect, 508 Walnut street, was made to read, Hamilton Albright. We make the correction in justice to that gentleman.

Merchant & Co., have issued a most entertaining souvenir, called a Midsummer Nights' Dream, in which the Brownies play an important role. The book is handsomely illustrated and well worthy a careful perusal both for amusement and the amount of information presented in a way calculated to attract attention to the subject of "Roofing Plates."

We are in receipt of a very handsome Calendar, from N. & G. Taylor Co., who have displayed the same sterling qualities in getting up a calendar, as in producing the genuine "Old Style" brand of roofing plates. The calendar in question is unique in design and represents a sheet of roofing tin, one of the leading specialties of the firm.

15,571 Transfers of Real Estate for 1890,
Against 15,945 for 1889. A falling off of 374 for the year.

What the year 1890 might have produced in new buildings had there not been a financial panic we will have to relegate to better guessers than we are. That building operations were greatly impaired by the financial disturbance which so seriously threatened the monetary and commercial interests of the world, the evil influences of which are even now felt in all enterprises requiring large sums of money as well as credit, is self-evident. To estimate how serious the loss has been in the delay it has occasioned in construction work alone is simply impossible.

The results of 1890 are exceedingly gratifying, and from them we deduce the conclusions that our Philadelphia builders have, on the basis of a healthy and continued demand for houses for investment, bright prospects before them, for it is only fair to suppose that out of the 15,571 transfers of real estate for 1890, there were at least a number of new houses sold to nearly equal the number of new buildings erected during the year. There are, to be sure, always more or less saddening and disheartening predictions as to serious consequences that must follow if our builders continue in their mad career of building. But wherein have these predictions ever been fulfilled? We have had them dinned into our ears for the past five years, and yet we fail to recollect a single instance where one has materialized. It must be remembered that building like storekeeping is a business. It is as necessary for the man who builds and sells houses to have a stock on hand, as it is for the storekeeper to keep his shelves well laden with the wares he deals in, and this talk of too many houses in the face of an army of buyers is just so much stupid nonsense. We have always leaned to the conservative side in our annual summing up, and from our usual conservative standpoint, we can at present see no reason why 1891 should not equal in both construction work and the sales of real estate any of the preceeding years, premising, of course, that the financial disturbance has reached its limits, and that curative influences are at work and to come through the aid of the Government.

The noticeable features of the year are the falling off in the number of two and three-story dwellings, there being a shortage of 149 of the former, and 34 of the latter, a total of 183, which is 69 more than enough to account for the 114 building operations short of 1889; but while there is a shortage in this respect, the buildings for industrial purposes are largely in excess of last year. Our figures show 7 more dye and dry houses, 6 more factories, 12 more engine and boiler houses, 6 more breweries and bottling houses, 42 more foundries and shops, whereas warehouses are seven short, the cost of the 32 erected this year was $90,000 more than the cost of the 39 erected last year. There were two more schoolhouses erected this year than last, while the churches are 13 short. A perusal of our list of miscellaneous buildings with their cost, will give a better idea of the magnitude of this class of work. The figures were obtained from the architects and builders, and are, consequently, the best obtainable.

The 15,571 transfers, represent a value of $82,879,165.22, against which we quote 15,945 transfers for 1889, and a value of $80,225,270.88. The mortgage incumbrance on the above, amounts to $16,993,673.40 for 1890, and $17,601,932.46 for 1889; while the ground-rent incumbrance for 1890 represents $684,146.47, which on a basis of six per cent., amounts to $11,402,441.16.

The sales of real estate at auction during 1890, amounted $3,725,261.20, or just $198,099.62 short of the figures for last year. This is surprising in face of the introduction of the No sale No charge system, introduced by the real estate auctioneers, Davis & Harvey. The amount of mortgage incumbrance was $439,787.25. The ground-rent incumbrance $7,747.41.

On second floor will be placed a hall; also on the third floor. Steam heat, galvanized cornice and all modern conveniences will be introduced.

It will contain electric lights, steam heat, bath and billiard rooms, stained glass work, etc. A carriage house and station will also be erected on the grounds.

T. Mellon Rogers architect, 902 Walnut street, Phila., has made the plans and placed them on boards for estimates, of the large warehouse, to be erected at Sixteenth and Pennsylvania avenue. These however, are to be made subject to contingencies, as it may be decided to add to the present plans, one more story. The contractors who may estimate, are asked to make any suggestions which may be of benefit to the structure, but in no case will they charge for anything but the material used.

Geissenger & Hale architects, 102 S. Twelfth street, Philada., have made plans for a great factory to be erected at Indiana avenue and Filmore street, for Barnes & Boyer, Lace Manufacturers. The structure will be five stories, of brick and basement trimmed with brownstone. Its size is 54x250 feet and each floor will be as a whole, without partitions. Two wings will be erected at each end, one for engine and boiler-house and the other for office room. Electric wiring and all modern improvements, including freight lifts will be introduced.

Lea, Esq., upon the University of Pennsylvania grounds and work will commence as soon as the weather will permit. The above architects drew plans and specifications for this work and they were fully reported by us in previous numbers of this journal. Thos. H. Doan builder and contractor, 3827 Baring street, has just been given the contract to erect the structure.

Moses & King architects, 431 Walnut street, Phila., have just completed plans for a large Hotel and Amusement structure, to be erected at Atlantic City, N. J., for what is known as the Atlantic City Amusement Company, and it will face upon four avenues, occupying an entire block of ground. The plans contemplate a Cafe, 75x100 feet and restaurant of the same size, a Carousell 100x100 feet, and in the centre a great Toboggan slide and race track. A Donkey will be erected as a sort of look-out and curio. The interior and exterior will be utilized for amusement purposes. Considerable ornamentation will be introduced in the enclosure. An electric and steam plant will be erected and be quite a feature. Grand stands and auditorium will be placed at convenient parts where the concerts are to be held. The entire work will be frame, except foundations. No contracts have been let, but estimates will be invited in a few days and the work completed by the time the season of 1891 opens, which will be about June 1st.

Furness & Evans architects, 209 S. Third street Philada., have made plans for a large Theatre, upon the grounds of the University of Pennsylvania, at Thirty-fourth and Darby Road. The base will be of rough-faced stone, the upper stories to be of terra-cotta and brick, roof to be tiled and surmounted with a dome. Fancy figures in terra cotta will adorn the windows, symbolical of Greek allegory and plays. A portico 15x45 feet, will be erected at main entrance. At either end of the lobby will be a coat-room and a direct entrance will lead from the orchestra to the stage; also other private entrances. Seating capacity to be 3,041, two galleries are to be placed, both of which, will be reached by grand stair-ways from lower floor or lobby; a small gallery will be erected over the stage, holding 144 persons. An organ loft will be fitted over the stage, with a grand instrument of that kind. The cost will be about $100,000, independent of a fund of $25,000, for its maintenance. The decorations and furnishing of interior, will be rich and substantial, the whole will be fitted with modern conveniences and comforts. No contracts have been considered or awarded.

Cold storage vaults and refrigerating apparatus will be constructed.

We are authorized to say, that notwithstanding the apparent opposition to the erection of "Runymede Club House," at Lansdowne, Pa., that it will be built, and all its rights and privileges enjoyed under its charter and by laws. The building committee and the president, noted in our last issue, are arranging details to consummate the above. Phil. J. Walsh, is the president of the club.

John F. Betz, brewer, has decided to tear down part of his plant at Crown and Callowhill streets, and to erect in its place a refrigerator and room for two, 350-barrel tanks or beer-holders. The new structure will be midway between the office and the corner. It will be surmounted with a dome of glass and iron, and, consequently, be a great ornament in the neighborhood. —The Philadelphia and Newtown Railroad Company, operated by the Reading Railroad, has awarded the contract to Grant B. Girton, to erect a station at Newtown; also one at Churchville. The company has also awarded contracts for the erection of stations at Southampton and Fox Chase.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., the Hospital Association has purchased a lot 60x100 feet on the north side of Powell street, opposite the hospital. On the newly acquired lot a cistern for sewage will be constructed, to be conveyed across the street in underground pipes. A shed will also be erected for horses.

—At Spring City, Chester Co., the American Wood Paper Company contemplate lighting its works with electricity. The stockholders of the Spring City Hardware Works have raised all but $1500 of the required amount for the proposed works. As soon as the necessary amount, $20,000, is ready, work will be commenced on the structure.

—At the Williamson School, near Elwyn, estimates are being prepared for a large drawbridge to be constructed on the grounds. Other buildings for the school will soon be under way, including engine rooms, boiler houses and other apartments for school purposes. The main building is nearing completion, and the superintendent's dwelling is now under roof.

—At Lancaster, Lancaster Co., at the last meeting of the School Board, Dr. Wickersham, the chairman of the special committee on new buildings, reported that the working plans and specifications had been prepared and were now ready for proposals. The same committee were authorized to advertise for bids for the construction of the two new school buildings. These structures have been fully described in a previous issue.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., Messrs. Henry H. and Jacob H. Gabel, proprietors of the Mill Park Hotel, contemplate the erection of a new hotel in the near future. Plans for the structure have been drawn by Architect E. Mull, of Reading, Pa. They contemplate a building of brick, forty feet square and three stories high, with back buildings 32x33 feet. The location will be at King and Shoemaker streets. All modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced. An effort is being made to erect a hospital, to cost about $40,000.

—At Braddock, Allegheny Co., the congregation of the African M. E. Church has purchased two lots on Fifth street for $2,000, on which a new brick church will be erected. The Edgar Thompson Steel Works will be practically rebuilt and on a larger scale in the spring. Among the improvements will be the erection of a new converting mill, which will contain 15-ton converter. The old blooming mill will be demolished and a new one erected in its place, which will be furnished with a new engine and set of rolls. Chas. M. Schwab is the general manager and can furnish additional information.

—At Pittsburg, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Yoder has taken out the permit for a handsome three-story stone residence, to be erected on Murray Hill avenue, at a cost $15,000. It will be finely finished on the interior, and will contain all modern conveniences and improvements. The contractor is T. H. Lindsay. Chas. W. Sargent will erect six, three-story brick dwellings, cost about $10,000. J. L. Kane will erect a two-story store and dwelling, to cost $2,500. I. I. Blanck will erect a two-story frame dwelling on Butler street, to cost $2,500. The Commonwealth Gas Company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., the Board of Trustees of the Normal School is considering a number of plans which have been submitted for the proposed new Recitation Hall. It was decided that the building should be 175x100 feet. The material will be greenstone. A high basement will be constructed to contain laboratories, beside heating apparatus and storage rooms; also shops for manual training. There will be about twelve recitation rooms on the first floor, besides a few classrooms and a large hall on the second floor. No plans have been accepted as yet, as a number of changes had to be made. The specifications will be drawn in a short time and bidders invited. The building committee consists of Messrs. J. Preston Thomas, Bentley Worth, L. G. McCauley, R. T. Comwell and Evan Rogers. The architects who have been invited to furnish plans are Addison Hutton, 400 Chestnut street, Philadelphia; Baker & Dallett, Fifth and Walnut streets,

LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.
*Gents—*I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.
Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,
Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks.

Schauffer's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.
MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.
*Dear Sirs—*The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.
SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,
Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. WILL LAST TEN TO FIFTEEN YEARS.

Say Mister!

HAVE YOU GOT A

Good Nose for News?

ANY Hunter can tell you that without a good nose a dog no matter how superior for other things is of little or no account in finding game.

Now Mister, if you are going to hunt your own game for 1891—i. e. hunt for customers to employ your brains, hire your skill or buy your wares, you ought to possess a good nose for news or you will find it much more expensive then to relegate the job to us. Less than ten cents a week gives you all a hundred people know weekly. You couldn't get perhaps ten cents for what you nose (knows) out in a hundred weeks.

Your friends and neighbors are subscribing lively just now, you must hurry if you want the back numbers for '91.

Ask some one you know if this journal is worth $5 00 per year in advance.

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Prop'r.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JAN. 14th 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

THE Timber-doodle of City Councils, is not alone, as many seem to suppose, the impecunious wretch who makes a business of politics, depending for his bread and butter, upon the price paid for his manhood and morality by the corporations who use him in opposition to the welfare of the people and the city's prosperity. There are such, and many of them, of course, but there are other Timber-doodles, who started out as reformers and who have held their heads high in the social and business world, and who have justly earned the brand of shame that is upon them, for their infamous records in barring the march of progress and growth and who must be downed in future at any cost. Neither is the Timber-doodle in Councils, without his counterpart in private life, for without the unswerving support—under the false plea of party fealty—of his unsophisticated brother, the affairs of this city could never have been brought to their present pitiable condition; for be it remembered, that it was not until the Philadelphia Record and the Association of Operative Builders infused a little of their own sentiment and spirit into public opinion, that the public seemed to possess any other opinion of its own, than that which led to a passive continuance of the worst system of councilmanic Timber-doodleism, the world has ever witnessed.

We are in receipt of a set of very handsome and artistically designed calendar cards, from the well known firm of Samuel H. French & Co., York Avenue and Callowhill street, this city. The "Peerless Colors," on the cards are in keeping with the celebrated "Peerless Colors for Mortar," for which the firm is noted.

The Philadelphia Steam Heating Company, at 1343 Arch street, Philadelphia, has favored us with a very unique and useful article of desk furnishing paraphernalia, in the way of a pad, containing a leaf for every day in the year, enclosed in a neat metal frame that also does duty for a pen holder. Many thanks.

On February 9th, 1891, the National Association of Builders, will meet in New York City, and on the closing day, will pay a visit of inspection to the Builders' Exchange of this City. Preparations are being made to entertain these gentlemen in the same manner for which the Philadelphia Exchange has become noted and may be summed up in the one word princely. John S. Stevens, D. A. Woelpper and Charles Gillingham, have been appointed a committee on reception.

We have received from the Record Publishing Co., of New Haven, a copy of the "Weekly Record Souvenir, of New Canaan, Conn." It is handsomely printed on fine paper, with colored covers, and besides a letter-press description of New Canaan's advantages as a place of residence and of business, contains more than fifty illustrations of her public and private buildings. Any person who is interested in New Canaan, or who has contemplated locating there, can have a copy free by sending stamps for postage to the publishers.

The City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Co., of Philada., 927 Chestnut street, has issued a large and handsome Calendar, in black and white, with an excellent picture of the new cruiser, "Philadelphia," as the chief ornamentation. All good Philadelphians are justly proud of this new naval monster, and the magnificent showing which she made on her trial trip, when she won a premium of $135 600, for her builders. The names of the officers and directors of The City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Company, insure as much strength and safety in their line, as is represented by our impregnable new cruiser.

It will be of stone and brick, two-and-a-half-stories high, and will contain all modern improvements, wood mantels, stained glass windows, tiling, sanitary plumbing, electric bells, etc.

Lot Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

Andrew J. Hibbs has purchased two lots at Bristol, Pa.

John D. Landis has purchased a lot at Bensalem, Pa.

Joseph R. Comly has purchased a lot at Warminster, Pa.

The Treves Land and Improvement Company has sold a building lot to the Rev. William Swindells, of Philadelphia, Pa.

John Fish has purchased several acres of Charles Carner's farm, at Fallsington, Pa., which he will cut up into building lots.

Architects Notes.

Geo. W. Plowman architect, 1017 Chestnut street, Philada., will draw the plans for the new theatre, to be erected under the auspices of a stock company and which will be under the able management of Major James H. Teagle. The stock is largely subscribed for and work will be commenced in earnest at an early date.

Addison Hutton architect, 400 Chestnut street, Philada., has made plans for alterations and additions to the Irving Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J. It will be four-stories high, of frame, slate roof, electric bells, fresco work, dumb waiters, gas fixtures, plate glass, steam heat, tiling best of plumbing, etc.

Chas. M. Burns, architect, 717 Walnut street, Philada., has completed all plans and details for erection of the convent to be erected by Miss Catherine Drexel, at or near Andalusia, on the Delaware river and the plans are now on boards for estimate. A full description of this structure was given in this journal when the construction was being considered, some months since.

Furness & Evans architects, 209 S Third street, Philada., are busy upon plans for rebuilding the house of the Hon. James G. Blaine; at Washington, D. C., recently burned. The plans comprehend an entire new interior and much of the exterior as well. It will be rebuilt upon a grand scale, in keeping with the houses of that locality. It will possess every convenience for comfort.

Reid Bros, architects, Evansville, Ind. having completed the plans in detail for the Theatre at Pittsburg, Pa., for Chas. E. Davis, (Alvin Joslyn,) the work of erection will now be pushed forward by R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, Lucas Building, Phila. Mr. Ballinger will leave in a few days for the above location, to begin operations. A full description of this structure has been noted in previous numbers of this journal.

W. A. Pollard architect, Trenton, N. J., has plans on boards for a large building to be erected for the Young Men's Christian Association, on State street. The structure will be fitted with all modern conveniences and cost $60,000. Same architect has made plans for a Social Club house, to be erected by the Catholic Young Men's T. A. B. Society, on Broad street, Trenton, N. J., 27x70 feet, three-stories high, brick and stone, tin roof, heat not settled, iron beams, bath rooms, wood mantels, and best of plumbing, etc.

M. B. Bean architect, Lansdale, Pa., has made plans for erection of a large church, to be erected jointly, by the Lutheran and Reformed congregations of the above locality. The structure will cost about $8,000 and will be commenced in the spring; also plans for a fine store building for J. A. Kolbe, to be erected on State street, Doylestown, Pa., to be three-stories high, 40x100 feet, with a large store upon the first floor. Mr. Bean expresses the opinion that the coming season will be a brisk one in his immediate vicinity, as he is at present engaged upon a number of plans.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

J. L. Hellings is about to repair a large amount of damage done to a building on Harlan west of Eighteenth street.

A. A. Harmer will erect three fine three-story houses, 18x50 feet, on Jeanette street, north of Freeland street, in the 21st Ward. These will have all modern conveniences.

A. J. Moseley & Son, carpenters and contractors, will build a large carpenter shop, 30x100 feet, between Florence and Warrington, 50th and 51st streets, to be fitted with steam machinery.

Charles Auchter, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a chapel and dwelling on Oxford pike, above toll gate. The same contractor will enlarge a storage house on Mervine street, above Columbia avenue.

Thomas Marshall, builder and contractor, 413 Locust street, will erect a row of seven three story dwellings on Forty-fourth street, below Locust street, to be of brick, with stone trimmings and all latest improvements.

James Mole, contractor, 1707 Downton street, will erect sixteen new houses at Wayne avenue and Denny street, when the season opens for building purposes. They will be of brick, with stone trimmings and all conveniences.

W. B. Dick, builder, has bought of Reformed Episcopal Church of Our Redeemer, a lot 72x78 feet, on Sydenham and Oxford streets, recently vacated by the church, and will erect several fine houses thereon.

Archbishop Ryan has just bought, of John Torpey, four lots located on Somerset and Tuscum streets. These lots are all irregular in shape. A mortgage remains of $1000 on each of the Somerset street lots. This possibly means a building operation in this parish.

Geo. Kelley & Co., 810 Market street, intend to enlarge and remodel their premises at once. New electric wiring and front work upon house, as well as considerable interior work will be done. Work will be commenced as soon as the weather will permit.

A. C. Mott, President of the Abram Cox Stove Company, 144 North Second street, Philadelphia, whose great plant is located at Lansdale, Pa., is at present considering the project of erecting about forty houses upon land adjoining and owned by the company.

Loyd Bailey, builder, has bought of Alexander C. Knorr, real estate agent, Germantown, a fine plot of ground, 350 feet, at corner of Roberts and Germantown avenues, and he proposes to erect in the spring a number of handsome houses thereon.

Bids will be asked in a few days for alteration and addition to the patrol and station-house of the Twenty-fifth District, 1507 Moyamensing avenue; also that of the old Seventeenth District, located on Taylor street, above Tenth. The plans are prepared and the money appropriated by Councils.

Director Wm. S. Stokley, and Commissioner of City Property William Dixey have examined a number of properties for location of an fire engine house at Roxborough, and have made an offer for a lot on West Leverington avenue, owned by Andrew Shinkle, of $1,800. Other lots were examined, but no conclusion has as yet been arrived at.

William S. Hansell & Sons, 114 Market street, has purchased from D. T. Gage, retired belt merchant, the property adjoining 118 Market street, corner Letitia, and will at once begin the operation of alteration to adapt it to the purposes of his business. The Messrs. Hansell have also rented No. 120 Market street, which will be added to their present plant. The whole to be fitted with appliances for the conduct of their large business.

A. M. Zane, builder, has purchased the old "Punch Bowl" property on Broad street above Diamond. The lot has a front on Broad street of 305 feet, and on Carlisle street, in the rear, of 200 feet, being irregular in shape. It is understood that Mr. Zane will build upon a portion of the ground and sell the remainder; part of which may be sold to the Second Regiment, National Guards, of Pa. The remainder will be sold to a prominent person, for the purpose of building a very elegant mansion.

The bids for the erection of a new police station at Twentieth and Berks streets, were opened by Director Stokley, but it is possible no award will be made at this time, as the appropriation for the structure is $30,000, and all bids being beyond that figure; it is likely the plans will be modified and new estimates be given. The bids given in this case were as follows: Frederick J. Amweg, $35,291.00; R. C. Ballinger, $38,679.88; Stacy Reeves & Son, $39,000.00; P. H. Somerset, $41,169.00; J. H. Jordan, $44,160.00.

It is now an assured fact that the New Century Club, 1520 Chestnut street, will, at a not distant date, have a home of its own. A company has been formed by members of the Club, to be known as the New Century Company, whose purpose is to erect a club-house for the use of the Club. There will be a large assembly room, which will be rented by the Club for musical, dramatic and social purposes. A charter will be applied for in a short time. A number of properties have been visited with a view of selecting a site, but as yet none has been selected. At a meeting of stockholders held on Monday, January 12th, the following Board of Directors was elected: Mrs. Edward H. Ogden, Mrs. Howard W. Lippincott, Miss Mary Esherick, Mrs. Matthew Baird, Miss Emily Bell, Mrs. Helen M. McAlister, Miss Mary Burnham, Miss Anna Longstreth, Mrs. Barry Colahan, Mrs. Annie L. Litch, Mrs. Henry C. Townsend, Mrs. Mary E. Mumford, Mrs. Charlotte L. Peirce, Mrs. Edwin L. Hall and Mrs. Edward Longstreth. The plans will probably be drawn by Minerva Parker.

Washington, D. C.

The whole of the square South of Pennsylvania avenue, bounded by D, E, Thirteenth and a-half and Fourteenth streets, N. W., has been purchased by Mr. Robert O. Holtzman, in the interest of the Georgetown Railroad Company. It is said the company will utilize the whole as headquarters for the new cable road which will be constructed as soon as the necessary legislation is passed by Congress. The House Committee on Public Buildings has agreed to report favorably the Senate bill for the erection of an additional fire-proof building for the use of the National Museum; the estimated cost is about $500,000. The site will be one adjoining the present museum building, and the new structure will be constructed in such a manner as to add much to the beauty of the neighborhood. Architect T. F. Schneider, 933 F street, N. W., has completed the plans for the Home for Aged Women, which will be erected at Ivy City, at a cost of about $35,000. It will be of brick, with slate roof, and will contain all modern improvements, including steam heat, sanitary plumbing, fine lavatories, etc. The Everett apartment house will be enlarged by a large addition, six stories high, steam heat will be introduced; the cost of the improvements will be about $30,000. The plans have been prepared by Messrs. Hornblower & Marshall, 1509 H street, N. W. Architect J. B. Brady, Building Inspector's office, has finished the plans for a handsome new truck house for the District Fire Department. It will be erected at Fourteenth street and Ohio avenue. The front will be of pressed brick, with terra cotta trimmings and slate roof. The interior will be handsomely finished in accordance with the intended use of the building, and the whole will be heated by hot air and lighted with gas and electricity; the estimated cost is about $20,000. Architect N. R. Grimm, Saint Cloud Building, has prepared the plans for three stores and dwellings to be erected on Seventh street, N. W., at a cost of $20,000. They will be of pressed brick, handsomely finished on the interior, plate glass show windows, etc. Appleton P. Clark, Jr., 605 F street, N. W., has prepared plans for a frame cottage, which will be erected by S. L. Wilson, at Forest Glenn. It will be of frame, handsome interior finish, including cabinet mantels, etc. Architect Frederick B. Pyle has made the plans for two dwellings, which will be erected by F. L. Moore on Valley street, Georgetown. They will be of pressed brick, with trimmings of Ohio stone and interior finish of white pine, cabinet mantels, electric bells and handsome gas fixtures. Architect W. Bruce Gray, 600 Thirteenth street, N. W., has been invited to prepare plans for a six-story structure to be erected at the Northwest corner of Eleventh and F streets; the dimensions will be 35x60 feet. The details have not yet been arranged, but the whole will be substantially built and as fire-proof as possible. The first floor will be used as store, and the remaining floors will be fitted up as offices. It will contain all modern improvements, such as elevator, etc. Col. Henry Strong is the owner. A handsome dwelling will be erected at Glen-Echo Heights, from plans prepared by Frederic B. Pyle, Sun Building, for B. P. Gains. It will be of rock faced granite, with red slate roof. The interior will be finished in white pine, cabinet mantels, electric bells, sanitary plumbing, hot water heating, handsome chandeliers, etc.; the estimated cost is $7,000. No contracts as yet have been let. Architect J. G. Meyers, 711 G street, N. W., has made plans for a dwelling to be erected at Brightwood, D. C. It will be two stories high, with considerable cement work and concrete of broken stone. The interior will be finished in Georgia pine, cabinet mantels, furnace heat. The furnace will be located in a fire-proof furnace room. At Glen-Echo, a number of handsome dwellings will be erected in the spring, for which plans have been drawn by Frederick B. Pyle. R. A. Charles has a dwelling under way. It will be heated by steam, have cabinet mantels, electric lighting, speaking tubes etc.; the estimated cost is $8,000. The same architect has made plans for a residence to be erected at Glen-Echo by Mr. Simmons. It will be of granite, two stories high, slate roof, white pine interior finish, cabinet mantels, steam heat, electric work, etc.; the estimated cost is $5,000. No contracts let. A stable, of stone, two stories high, to cost $2,000, will also be erected by Mr. Simmons. Messrs E. & E. Baltzley, Sun Building, Room 7, can give information regarding any operations at Glen-Echo Heights, or of the architects who are preparing the plans for dwellings. Senator Stanford has introduced a bill in which are embodied plans for remodeling the White House. These contemplate the erection of an executive office or official wing on the West and a public wing or gallery on the East, both wings to be connected with present building by glass and iron structure forming conservatories and winter gardens; the estimated cost is $950,000.

Through Maryland.

At Baltimore, W. F. Weber, 20 East Lexington street, has prepared plans for the Hotel Buena Vista and Sanitarium, to be erected in Franklin County, Pa. The structure will be 300x60 feet, and five stories high. It will contain all modern improvements, steam heat, elevators, electric lights, etc. The estimated cost is about $100,000. T. Casey will erect a two-story frame warehouse, on the north side of Frederick road, near the B. and P. station. Carter Bros. will erect four, two-story brick dwellings. The members of the Builders' Exchange elected the following delegates and alternates to the Fiftieth Annual Convention of the National Association of Builders, to be held in the Masonic Temple, New York City, on February 9, 10, 11 and 12: J. F. Adams, No. 3, Barnet street; John Hitz, Third and Bank streets; Jefferson J. Walsh, Oliver and Maryland avenues. Alternates: P. M. Womble, Jr., Chesapeake and Patuxent streets; George W. Starr, 960 North Howard street; Isaac S. Filbert, McHenry and Pappleton streets. The finance commissioners, at a meeting held on the 8th, at the City Hall, on a motion of Mr. Pratt, it was resolved that authority be given to the City Register to advertise for bids for $300,000, out of the $5,000,000 loan for permanent improvements. Hon. Charles E. Phelps will erect a dwelling to cost about $7,000; plans prepared by Architect W. F. Weber, 20 Lexington street.

Through Delaware.

At Milford, Kent Co., the dwelling of Jennings Mills, a farmer near here, was destroyed by fire on January, 8. The estimated loss was $3,000.

At Wilmington, at the last regular meeting of the Directors of the Builders' Exchange, the president was authorized to appoint a committee to select a site for a new building and to report at the next stated meeting of the directors. President Winslow will appoint the committee, at once.

Through New Jersey.

At Loch Arbour, Monmouth Co., W. C. Cottrell has been awarded the contract for the erection of a dwelling to cost about $2,500.

At Williamstown, Gloucester Co., Mr. George Ware will erect a handsome three-story residence on Washington avenue.

At Hackensack, Bergen Co., the citizens have petitioned the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad for a new station.

At Pavonia, Camden Co., steps are being taken towards the organization of a Citizen's Fire Association. Mr. Shnip can give information.

At Atlantic Highlands, Monmouth Co., Rev. John H. Fox has given out the contract to Michael Moran for the erection of a dwelling to cost about $5,300.

At Laurel Springs (not a P. O. town), Camden Co., Dr. A. P. Bloomer, of Philadelphia, will erect a handsome residence on Tomlinson street, also a stable.

The Freeholders of Essex Co., have decided to erect a court house, at a cost of nearly $1,000,000, and will apply to the Legislature for permission to issue bonds for the necessary amount. The county seat is Newark.

At Centreton, Salem Co., Mr. Wilmot Hamsell has purchased the ground opposite the residence of John Hullings on the Masonville road, and will soon begin the erection of a summer residence on the site.

At Paterson, Passaic Co., the Benevolent Lodge, I. O. O. F., which purchased the residence of ex-Mayor Socrates Tuttle some time since, has adopted plans for a new building for lodge purposes, to cost $5,000.

At Camden, the Board of Trade will meet the Highway Committee of City Council on Wednesday evening, January 14th, to advocate the construction of a Belt Line Railroad along the Delaware River.

At Montclair, Essex Co., Mr. I. Seymour Crane will erect a two-story and attic frame dwelling, 38x45 feet, to cost about $12,000. The plans have been prepared by G. W. Da Cunha, Jr. The same architect has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected by Mr. G. L. Benedict to cost about $6,000.

At Trenton, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company having failed in its efforts to close Lambert street, has submitted a new plan to the City Council, which calls for the construction of an overhead bridge for its four tracks. The proposed structure is to be a first-class iron deck bridge with asphalt floor.

The contract for the construction of the bridge across Mullica River to the Phoenixville Bridge Company, by the joint committee of Atlantic and Burlington Counties has been declared void, because the engineer, S. T. Prince, of the Atlantic City Water Works, was not present, and the committee gave the award, subject to his plans and specifications. It is claimed that the bridge called for by the plans, would cost $60,000, which is more than the contract of the Bridge Company.

At Keyport, Monmouth Co., the members of the Baptist congregation will erect a chapel and Sunday-school. It will be of pressed and ornamental brick, with stone and terra cotta trimmings, tin and slate roof, galvanized iron cornice, pipe organ. The plans have been prepared by Architect H. A. Young. The church committee will also receive bids for improving the interior of the main church building, new ceiling, cornices and repainting; also for new cathedral glass windows. The entire cost is estimated at nearly $10,000.

There is now a prospect that the three towns of Salem, Bridgeton and Millville, will be connected by a railroad. The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad has secured terminal facilities in Salem where a large freight station will be erected, and the road has also been offered a site on reasonable terms for a station in the centre of the town. The Board of Trade of Salem has taken the matter in hand, and expect to work in harmony with the Boards of Trade of Millville and Bridgeton in furthering the project. At present the only means of communication is by stage. The board has also opened negotiations with the Wilmington and Northern Railroad Company with a view of having the Delaware River Railroad extended from Pennsgrove to Salem, Bridgeton and Millville as soon as possible.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth Co., the contract for the three-story brick factory building to be erected for Messrs. Steener has been awarded to Mr. A. A. Taylor. An artesian well will be put down, and the water pumped into a large tank to be constructed on the roof. Twenty-two of the twenty-six adjacent lots have been taken. Architect F. V. Bodine has prepared plans for a new station, to be erected at Lakewood, N. J. It is only one of a number which have been prepared by different architects in a competition. No plan has been accepted yet by the Railroad, though a number of officials favor the one drawn by Mr. Bodine. Contractor W. C. Cottrell has begun work on the cottage on Asbury avenue, for Mr. Winans, and has contracted for the erection of two cottages at Loch Arbour, which were recently destroyed by fire.

fifty feet, and other improvements made. I Newton Wynn, Esq., will erect two dwellings in the spring on his lot in the South Ward.

—At Cheltenham, Montgomery Co., it is reported that Cheltenham will soon be lighted by electricity. The Cheltenham Electric Light Company, of Oak Lane, has offered to extend its wires, provided a sufficient number of subscribers can be obtained to warrant the additional expense.

—At Pottsville, Schuylkill Co., the New York and Schuylkill Land Company has been chartered with a capital of $20,000. Eaton W. Frisbie and Benjamin S. Harmer, of New York City; Rush W. Bissel, of Passaic, N. J., and Joseph W. Moyer and John H. Williams, of Pottsville, are the directors.

—At Harrisburg, the new High School building will cost nearly $100,000. It will be three stories high, of common and pressed brick, with stone trimmings and galvanized iron cornices. It will be handsomely finished on the interior, and will contain all modern improvements. There will be some stained glass used. John W. Young is secretary of the School Board and can give additional information.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., the Special Agent of the United States Treasurer, Mr. Adol Cluss, visited Chester a few days since, to inspect the sites for the proposed public building. After his report at Washington, the site will be selected and work will be commenced on the proposed building. Congress has appropriated $75,000 for the purpose. Dr. J. L. Forwood is chairman of the Public Building Committee, and S. Greenwood, secretary.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., Joseph S. Haws has purchased a lot 30x140 feet, on the west side of Hanover avenue, and will erect a handsome residence the coming season. W. U. H. Trout has purchased a lot 30x190 feet on Jefferson avenue, and will erect a dwelling. Mrs. Kate V. R. Gauge has sold the Pleasant View Hotel and about ten acres of land to L. L. Bechtel, landlord of the Limerick Square Hotel.

—At Royersford, Montgomery Co., the Grand Stove Company contemplate the erection of storage and cleaning building, at a cost of $8,000, work to begin early in the spring. Simon H. Snyder's bid for the erection of the new Methodist Episcopal Church is $18,950, which is the lowest bid received. Mr. Snyder will doubtless receive the contract. The bids do not include the pulpit, pews or glass. The structure will be stone, 100x63 feet, 87 feet high. The cost will be about $30,000.

—At Oil City, Venango Co., the old building of Mr. W. L. Lay, at First and State streets, has been entirely demolished and a business block will be erected on the site in the spring. At the last meeting of the Water Board the City Engineer, and Superintendent Ross were instructed to make a search for an available site on Hasson's Heights, upon which a reservoir could be constructed. It is the intention to buy sufficient ground so as to have room for a park around the reservoir.

—At Langhorne, Bucks Co., the Langhorne Improvement Company has sold the block of ground bounded by Pine and Cherry streets and Fairview avenue, and containing about five acres, to Mr. William H. Shuster, of Philadelphia. At its annual meeting, the company reported that the passage of the Reading Terminal Bill at Philadelphia, has visibly increased the number of people looking for building sites at Langhorne. Mr. C. C. Riggs will erect a residence on Gillam avenue. There is some talk of erecting a club house, as many of the residents spend the entire year in the country.

—At North Wales, Montgomery Co., the large curtain factory operated by Messrs. Roth & Co., of Manayunk, Philadelphia, was destroyed by fire a few days ago. The loss of the building amounts to about $5,000. It was constructed by the North Wales Land and Improvement Company, and was insured for $3,500. It will probably be rebuilt before spring. Mr. John Weingartner contemplates the erection of a large cigar factory with stores underneath, on the Nutz property, which he purchased last week. The dwelling on the property will also be remodeled. As predicted and confirmed by residents, the effect of the Reading Terminal ordinance is already noticeable along the North Penn Road, and prices are very firm. An exchange says: "The move of Mr. William M. Singlerly, who owns eight acres or more near Gwynedd Station, to dispose of all his valuable stock and farming implements and machinery at public sale, is significant of what a boom in land is about to be precipitated upon this section. Building sites in Gwynedd Township are as fine as any found north of Jenkintown, and Mr. Singlerly is the first of the large land owners here to prepare for the activity that the Terminal Road will launch upon this neighborhood." The court last week appointed a jury to view and lay out a road from North Wales to Lansdale, as petitioned by the Hawthorne Land Company, the owners of Pembroke.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well.
"Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Prop'r.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JAN. 21st 1891.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

A CLOSE observer having just returned from New York, emphasizes the statement that in less than ten years, that city, in order to accommodate the growing demand for rapid transit, must have the capacity of her elevated rail-roads doubled. In other words, there will be no way to move the vast numbers hurrying to and from their homes before and after business hours, unless another tier of tracks is built over those already erected.

The incentive to this great and increasing demand for rapid transit, is rapid transit itself. The people having grown used to the present system, have learned to work it for all it's worth and are already chafing under limited accommodations and what they now regard as only an apology, for what is truly needed.

The peculiarity of human nature to grow used to things easily, is expressed everywhere. Astonishment and pleasure are soon followed by dissatisfaction and complaint. The man still lives, who witnessed the introduction of many of our modern inventions that have become too slow to keep pace with the demands of those who use them.

The success of what is now regarded as slow transit, notwithstanding its great superiority over the horse car method, in a measure solves the problem for Philadelphia. We do not want to begin where New York left off. We must meet the question of rapid transit on a basis broad enough to anticipate the wants of a thrifty people, who possess just as much "catch on" and "go," as New Yorkers ever possessed. The difficulty will be to find sufficient accommodations when the people get started. The fact is, public sentiment has already started the Press, and the struggle among the councilmen to get in out of the wet, was as natural as it is for a duck to swim. Delaware and Montgomery counties, at least those portions in juxtaposition to Philadelphia, must be made easier to reach from the City Hall, than either West Philadelphia, Columbia avenue or Camden, are at present. Our people must get a "move on," and nothing will stimulate business, social, religious and political activity, so much as the possibility of getting somewhere, in the same time that is now required under Philadelphia methods, to go nowhere.

The cauldron of agitation must be kept boiling hot for fear too much time will be spent in getting at conclusions. The Operative Builders' the Commercial and other exchanges, the Manufacturers and other clubs, the members of the Master Builders' Exchange, the active business men, the lawyers, doctors and ministers, should at all times, in place and out of place, keep digging at the question of rapid transit to all points, until we get it.

We are in receipt from G. Edward Johnson, roofer at 428 Walnut street, this city, of a large and handsome thermometer for the office. It is complete in every particular and guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction.

H. B. Weachter, the well known Nurseryman, at Lansdale, Montgomery Co., Pa., has just issued his semi-annual Catalogue, containing some thirty pages of valuable information, relating to fruits, flowers and ornamental trees and shrubs. Mr. Weachter makes a specialty of the planting of country seats, land companies grounds and cemeteries, and has done much work of the kind for well known companies and persons, as shown by the list of references published in his catalogue.

THE STATEMENT OF THE AMERICAN FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, MERITS THE ATTENTION OF BUILDERS AND OWNERS.

A strong annual statement of the American Fire Insurance Company, will be found on one of our advertising pages. With a cash capital of $500,000, and a surplus of nearly another half of a million more, it is quite probable that in this the Eighty-First year of its existence, the American Fire will continue to impart its old-time confidence and security to its patrons. The growth of this company's business during 1890 is remarkable, the figures showing a heavy gain over the preceding year, the receipts being in excess of disbursements $339,863 10. The assets of the company on January 1, amounted to $2,950,394.07

The success of the company is entirely due to its solidity and a vigorous business management. It is particularly popular among owners and builders, who seem always exacting and critical in placing risks, and who are, as a rule, extremely cautious and justly so. The officers and directors for 1891 are as follows:

Sixty years ago the aggregate wealth of the United States, was less than $1,000,000,000, at present it is estimated at $53,200,000.

The United States Government holds in its vaults a greater amount of gold and silver, than any other government in the world. It is the direct custodian of $325,600,000 in gold coin and bars, and $318,000,000 in silver.

The Globe's Largest Building.

The largest building on the globe is said to be the Freihaus, or free house, an apartment-house in Vienna. There are fifteen hundred rooms arranged in four hundred dwelling apartments. The house has thirty-one staircases and 2,112 persons, enough to make a small town, are now living under its one great roof. As may be imagined, it is difficult to find a particular person in this great caravansary, and one visitor testifies to looking for an occupant for more than two hours. The postman sometimes delivers one thousand pieces of mail matter in a day at this one house.

The Growth of London.

One of the most singular facts about the growth of London is its regularity. It may be roughly taken that every month about a thousand houses are added to London. In August of this year 765,577 houses had to be supplied by the water companies with water; in September that number had increased to 766,797. In August of last year 754,464 houses had to be supplied, or 11,113 below the number in the same month of this year. In September of this year the companies had to supply 10,976 houses more than in September of 1889. This extension is not confined to any one portion of the capital, but a preference is still being shown for the North and Northwest suburbs.

AMBIGUITY

Leaves a very wide Door, very wide

THE quibbles and quirks of men who do things for the sake of expediency in business, professional, political and social life, make up the rottenness of the world.

The man who has one price for your advertisement in his journal and another price for the same space and time for your neighbors, merits neither respect, confidence nor patronage and he wont keep yours very long.

We'd almost as soon

as to cut our advertising rates. We can say NO ; and mean it every day in the year. We aim to make a practical Building and Real Estate Newspaper of the greatest possible service and profit to both subscribers and advertisers, and to obtain our business solely on the merits of the question without fear, favor or sentiment.

You must notice that we hold our old business pretty well: That's because it pays, We would be pleased to have your patronage if the above rather terse prospectus suits you. It's a good thing, however, to know where you stand. Ours may be a rough method but it is entirely American and unambiguous.

Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

The Sheppard Memorial Building, on the grounds of the Home for Consumptives, at Chestnut Hill, was dedicated and opened last week, in the presence of a large gathering of clergymen and friends. The acceptance speech on behalf of the Episcopal church, was made by Bishop Whitaker, following the presentation of the building by Mr. Franklin L. Sheppard, who represented his father the donor, Mr. Isaac A. Sheppard, president of the Board of Education, and warden of Zion Protestant Episcopal church. The building is intended as a memorial to Mr. Sheppard's two children, Heber J. and Mary B. Sheppard. It is of the Romanesque style of architecture, beautifully finished throughout and fitted with every convenience for its intended use in alleviating suffering humanity.

A Pointer for Real Estate Auctioneers.

THE New York Court of Appeals, has recently set aside a judgment obtained in a lower court, by an Auction firm against a purchaser at an auction, of a piece of real estate, who refused to take the same and for whose account the property was subsequently sold at a loss of $1,600. The Court in setting aside the judgment, said that the auctioneer's memorandum was not binding, for the reason that it did not name or describe the sellers of the property.

"The memorandum," says the Court, "failed to state the name of the vendor, or to give any description by which he or she could be identified, and this omission was fatal."

An agreement of this kind to be valid and binding must give "the subject matter of the sale, the terms, and the names or a description of the parties."

Penn Mutual's Statement.

The old Penn Mutual Life presents its Forty-third Annual Report, showing that its receipts for 1890, were $4,546,866.96. Its net assets also show a heavy gain for the year, the figures being $15,932,328.72, against $14,298,397.14 for 1889. Its new business for 1890, amounted to 7,539 policies, representing $20,568,534.00.

It is self-evident that the Penn Mutual has lost none of its popularity, nor its management any of its characteristic push and energy. The new offices of this company, in its new building, afford greater and better facilities for business, besides more comfortable quarters for its officers and employees. The new building is now regarded as an attractive feature to visitors, and large numbers daily avail themselves of the company's invitation to make a visit of inspection.

After a three days trial, before Judge Fell, Brown & Day architects, recovered a balance of $154, with interest from Oct. 1888, due them by Edward P. It will be three-stories high, of brick and ornamental terra-cotta, roof to be of tin, with sky-lights, supported by iron trusses, interior will be finished in cedar wood and a gallery twelve feet wide, will extend around the interior of salesroom. Steam heat, electric light and bells and best of sanitary plumbing will be introduced. A freight lift will be placed in rear of building. It will have all modern conveniences and will be one of the largest structures of the kind in the State, outside of the large cities. Also plans for the improvement of the First National Bank of Waynesboro, Pa., to consist of new iron-bound doors, plate and channel glass, for doors and windows, new desks, counters, screens, etc. Contracts not let.

T. Frank Miller architect, 1221 Arch street, Phila., has completed drawings and specifications for a large church to be built by the German Evangelical Lutheran Jerusalem congregation, at the N. Forty-first street, has made plans for the Hamilton school, to be erected on Chestnut street, west of Forty-first street, and they are now placed on boards for estimates by contractors. The entire construction will be done by the proprietor, John M. Sharp, 1936 S. College avenue and supervised by the architect above named.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The contract for the erection of the new building for the Kennedy-Grosswith Electrical Company, at Fifty-second street and Lancaster avenue, has been given to Thomas H. Burrows, who will commence work in a short time.

In an interview with Mr. George W. Childs, that gentleman denies having any intention of erecting any kind of a water tower for the use of Wootton, as the present water supply is ample for the needs of his establishment at that place.

William J. Ross, builder, is about to begin the erection of eighteen, two story houses on the lower side of Cantrell street, east of Fourth street, in the First Ward. They will be of brick, stone trimmings and fitted with all modern conveniences.

The Germantown Electric Light Company, is about to begin the erection of its plant on Cumberland street east of Armat. The size will be 35x31 feet, one-story, brick and stone, fitted with engine and dynamos; contract for erection of structure let.

If the new apartment house—The Carlton—just opened, at 1816 Chestnut street, shall prove a success, it is the intention of the owners to erect an additional structure on the same ground, extending clear through to Sansom street.

A resolution was offered at the semi-annual meeting of the Journeymen Stonemasons' Association, 810 Spring Garden street, making the rate of wages to be asked during the coming season, after April, forty cents per hour; being an advance of six cents over the present rate.

W. T. B. Roberts, builder, 1843 North 22d street, Philadelphia, will break ground at once for the erection of sixty-four dwellings on Newkirk street, between Jefferson and Master streets. They will be of brick and fitted on the interior with best of modern improvements and conveniences.

Work on the freight station to be erected by the Reading Railroad, on the ground between the east side of Sixth, and the west side of Fifth, and from Willow to Callowhill streets, will be begun about March 1, as the tenants have been notified that they can remain until that time.

The Manufacturers' Electric Light Company, has secured the lot on the Southeast corner of American and Somerset streets, and will erect their new plant. The lot is 175x121 feet. James Work is president; John Taylor, Receiver of Taxes, secretary; and William J. Roney, chief clerk under Mr. Taylor, treasurer. The company include David Martin and well known men in the city. The capital stock is $250,000.

The property 1308 Filbert street has been sold by the Girard Life Insurance, Annuity and Trust Company, to the firm of Dunlap & Clark, printers, for $40,000. The lot is 33x106 feet. The purchasers who now have their establishment at 817 Filbert street, propose to use the newly-purchased ground as a site for a large six-story building, to be used for their own purposes as soon as their present lease expires.

P. Oliver Derr, Seventh street and German-town road, owner of the old hotel called the "Seven Presidents," will begin the operation of building his new hostelry early this spring, as the plans have been prepared and arrangements made for some time in regard to its construction, but owing to the condition of the weather, it has been delayed. A full description of the structure has been given in previous number of this journal.

A new bank has been started by the organization of the following gentlemen: Frank E. Patterson, president; Directors: William L. Elkins, Jr., C. H. Howell, Gen. Robert E. Patterson, C. B. Allen, James Sullivan and Albert E. Conway. William C. Wood, now paying teller of Third National Bank, will be cashier of the new institution. A temporary room will be fitted up near Broad and Callowhill streets, and if business will warrant, a new building will be erected by those interested.

At a meeting of the Committee on Plans and Improvements of the Park Commission, on the 23d inst, it was resolved to authorize the outlay of $8,000, to macadamize the river drive from Stone Bridge to Wissahickon, and to be complete by May 15th. Also to advertise for proposals for the improvement of the West Park river drive, from Fords road to Columbia Avenue Bridge. The amount available is $15,000, and $7,500 will be the amount expended upon the main concourse, in front of Memorial Hall, where the Main Building stood during the Centennial Exhibition.

At the annual meeting of the Operative Builders' Association the following officers were elected for 1891. President, William T. B. Roberts; Vice-Presidents, Charles M. Baker, Thomas G. Clifton, Clifford Pemberton, Joseph C. Boteler, Samuel P. F. Ferrers, T. T. Rockett, O. A. Guenthoer, Jacob Dowler, John S. Serrill, H. A. Heisler, L. A. White, James J. Ryan and Charles Callahan. The Board of Directors has been increased from thirteen to twenty-five members to better facilitate the necessary committee work.

General Agent Latta, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has made a proposition to the special sub-committee, of Council's Committee on Surveys, to the effect that if the city would expend about $30,000 in grading four streets along the line of the Trenton Railroad, between Frankford and Tacony, the railroad company would construct bridges across its roadbed at a cost of about $200,000. These bridges are a part of similar structures projected; the entire operation of providing them it is estimated, will cost $463,000. To build these bridges, but $75,000 is available, and the sub-committee decided to recommend that $30,000 be set aside to pay half the cost of erecting a new structure at Girard avenue across the Reading Railroad, provided that company will pay the other half. The balance of the $75,000, it was recommended should be used to construct a bridge across Frankford Creek on Kensington Avenue

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. FEB. 4th, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

THE recent death of John M. Erickson removes an active and energetic participant in the growth and extension of this, his native city. His untimely end was as unexpected as it was sad. He was in the prime of life, and although a young man, had by his enterprise gained the proud distinction of being the leading operative builder in West Philadelphia. He was well liked and possessed many warm personal and business friends, and his future seemed bright and promising. His usefulness was expressed in both business, financial and social circles, and in these as well as in his home life he will be sadly missed.

ARCHITECT and Civil Engineer John J. Deery, of this city, assumes that because this journal favors the erection of elevated railroads, it is necessarily opposed to underground methods. For the satisfaction of Mr. Deery and others we would state that for great cities we believe that the underground method is the only proper one, and that elevated roads are an abomination and a nuisance, while at the same time infinitely preferable to nothing. The excuse that sufficient capital is not obtainable to tunnel both Broad and Market streets their entire length, is only equalled by that other stupid assertion that there are obstacles too great to be overcome; when the fact is, that capital enough is available, and the obstacles—the Schuylkill river being the greatest—are mere child's play. We regard elevated American roads constructed on the American plan, for the sake of expediency only, as a step in the right direction. As an established fixture they must run their course until necessity compels their abandonment for something better. Any method, however poor, that will be an improvement on our present pay your fare and walk home system, and that will at least temporarily relieve the people of their present distress and sufferings, and our sturdy and enterprising builders of their misfortunes for the want of rapid transit of some kind, this journal, with the people generally, will hail as an unqualified blessing. There is no reason that we can see why the Broad and Market streets underground schemes should not go on to completion. Mr. John Lucas has assured the public that the capital can be had for the asking. The question of construction is easily enough settled and the question of franchise will be settled when the people lock horns with the Councils as they did with the Reading Terminal question. In this connection a clipping from a letter to the New York Morning Journal, written by Mr. William Steinway, the New York piano manufacturer, on the elevated railroads of Berlin, will prove interesting. Mr. Steinway says:

The Stadtbahn (city road), the great elevated road of Berlin, is as perfect a structure as any in the world. It runs from the east entrance of the city, known as Potsdam, through the centre of the city to the Silesian depot and is ten English miles in length. The viaduct is of solid stone masonry. The right of way has been bought and the road itself is circular in shape.

The structure proper is twenty feet above the street and has four tracks. Two of these are for through traffic and two for express. The express trains stop at only two stations, one the Friederich, situated in the centre of the city.

The road has ten stations, each being a mile apart. These stations are not like ours, but huge affairs capable of accommodating nearly a thousand people. Each train is made up of ten cars, each car being 80 feet long, and built on the coupe or compartment system. Each compartment provides seats for six first-class passengers and eight second-class passengers.

The benefit of these coupe cars is seen when the station is reached. There is no waiting for entrance or egress. The doors are thrown open by the guards, and while one compartment is being emptied another is being filled. I have seen these big trains emptied and refilled in ten seconds.

Trains run every ten minutes with a speed of two and one-half minutes to the mile.

Sunday is a great holiday with the German people. One Sunday in July of last year I saw a thousand people on and about each of the ten mammoth stations.

The Berlin road was begun in 1875 and finished in 1881. It cost 75,000,000 of marks, or $19,000,000, including the property acquired.

A remarkable feature of the road is its noiselessness. The whole roadway is deadened by a deadening substance. I listened to the performance of Beethoven Symphony No. 5, in the Conservatory of Music, situated on the line of the road. Although these trains of ten cars each passed at intervals of a few minutes, not a note escaped me.

Property along the line of the road has, strange to say, tripled in value. Another remarkable thing is the locomotives used. These are of ordinary railroad size, and by the use of peculiar coal consume their own smoke.

ON Saturday, Jan. 31, Judge Willson, rendered a decision which is of interest to both builders and householders. The decision is that every dwelling-house erected within the limits of Philadelphia, must have a space of twelve feet square, 144 square feet, and open from the ground up to the sky.

Information Wanted.

Clarence W. Bowen, Secretary of the Committee on the Centennial of Washington's Inauguration, 251 Broadway, New York, desires information regarding the portraits of Thomas Fitzsimmons, Thomas Hartley and Thomas Scott, Members of Congress from Pennsylvania.

These portraits, for the Memorial Volume, are particularly desired, to complete the list of portraits of the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress at the time of Washington's Inauguration.

THE Management of the affairs of the Equitable Trust Company, will be in capable hands during Mr. Wm. F. Harrity's identification with Governor Pattison's cabinet. Mr. Daniel Donovan, vice president, by an arrangement of the Board of Directors, will, in conjunction with the president, Mr. Harrity, supervise business matters during Mr. Harrity's absence. The results of the late election of officers and directors, are as follows: William F. Harrity, president; George M. Dallas and Daniel Donovan, vice presidents; Frank J. Johann, secretary and treasurer, and Thomas Robins, trust and title officer. Board of Directors: Jay Cooke, Jr., Daniel Donovan, George M. Dallas, George H. Earle, Jr., Howard B. French, Wm. F. Harrity, Anthony A. Hirst, Arthur Hagen, Hubert J. Heran, Charles H. Krumbhaar, Danl. H. Mahoney, Alfred J. Murphy, Winthrop Smith, Jeremiah J. Sullivan, John Sparhawk, Jr.

A Tacoma Newspaper, has a practical test of the merits of Adamant Plaster.

The building occupied by the Tacoma, Washington Daily News, was partially destroyed by fire, on Nov. 15, 1890, the following laudatory editorial on "Adamant," appeared in its columns, on Nov. 22d:

"The NEWS has refrained from making any reference to the splendid manner in which adamant wall plaster stood the test of water in the recent fire in the NEWS' building. It has refrained, because it did not believe it possible that any plaster could undergo such an ordeal and remain in undisturbed adhesiveness to the ribs of any structure. The News has waited a whole week in daily expectancy of seeing the plaster peel off, drop away, scale, or at least to make an inconvenient excursion around editorial cranium, but it has stoutly refused to do so, and now that it has dried out thoroughly, the News acknowledges the corn. The building has been flooded with water, and from two to four inches of water stood on every floor. Auger holes had to be bored through the plaster to allow it to escape, but there was not the slightest bulging or loosening of the hold of the plaster to the laths. It was practically impervious to water. Adamant plaster as made by the Tacoma company, has the unqualified endorsement of the News for its fire resisting qualities, its death-like grip, its imperviousness to water, and at the same time, its general superiority as a wall dressing."

Philadelphia, January 29, 1891.

REAL ESTATE RECORD PHILA.

Gentlemen:—Permit us to put you in possession of the facts and correct an error contained in your issue of the 28th inst.

In your New Jersey news, you mention the purchase of land by the Columbia Stove Company, etc., etc. It is Steel, Van Rossum & Co., and we are known as the Columbia Iron Works. We have purchased nearly four acres of land in Camden, bounded by the West Jersey R. R., Jackson street, Sixth street and Little Newtown Creek. We propose to erect thereon, buildings of the most improved kind, fully equipped with improved machinery and appliances for manufacturing and handling our wares, so arranged and distributed, that the widely known specialties of our production can be largely increased. The plant is so located that we have both water and rail shipping facilities on our premises, which you will admit, is a very important and advantageous feature, in the selection of a site suitable for our business. In addition, we are but a few moments walk or drive from either of the Ferries, and our deliveries of goods to any part of this city, is also a matter of convenience.

We contemplate also, the removal of our offices and sales-rooms, to a central, or business portion of this City, which will make our headquarters more easy of access to all of those with whom we may have transactions.

Yours very truly,

STEEL, VAN ROSSUM & CO.

At Charlotte, Mecklenburgh Co., N. C., a stock company, of which Mr. E. D. Latta is president, will erect a pavilion and hotel. The plans have been prepared by G. L. Norman, of Atlanta, Ga. Contracts not yet let.

It will be erected at West Ansonia, Conn. Also plans for a three-story story store, to cost $6,000; also plans for alterations to the Ansonia National Bank; also plans for a parsonage for the pastor of the First Baptist church of Shelton. None of the above contracts are yet let.

T. Mellon Rogers architect, 902 Walnut street, Philada., having modified the plans of the new warehouse, to be erected at Sixteenth street and Pennsylvania ave., for the Pennsylvania Warehousing and Safe Deposit Company, new estimates are being received for its construction. The size remains the same, 198x132 feet, but an additional story has been put on. The floors have been lowered some, so that the height is about the same in the aggregate. A full description of the above, has been given in previous numbers of this journal. The same architect has prepared plans for alteration of the 17th District Police Station, on Taylor above Tenth street. These will be quite elaborate, including considerable iron and brick work. Plans are now on boards for estimates.

T. Roney Williamson architect, 138 S. Fourth street, Philada., has made plans for alteration and addition to house of Guy E. Farquhar, Esq., of Pottsville, Pa., to consist of new porch, roof and other exterior work, plumbing, gas fitting, electric bells and hard wood work, upon interior. Also drawings for alterations to house of Isaac Myer, Esq., at Chestnut Hill, of quite an elaborate character. Same architect has made plans for a house for the principal of the State Normal School, at West Chester, Pa., to be erected in conjunction with the elegant recitation hall, to be of stone, three-stories high, slate roof, steam heat, stained and plate glass, electric bells, best of sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. Also plans for a house for Mr. McKay, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, to be built of brick, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work and all modern conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Hunter & Nock will erect a number of dwellings at Fifty-sixth and Master streets.

Two new elevators are about to be placed in the Drexel Building, at Fifth and Chestnut streets. They will be of the Stokes & Parrish pattern.

The Manufacturer's Electric Light Company will erect at once a plant at the corner of American and Somerset streets; to be fitted with all the necessary machinery, etc.

At Olney, Philadelphia, Architect Lemuel Altemus has contracted for the erecting of a number of dwellings, to be commenced in the spring.

Mr. Albert Austin Aldridge, of 1631 Mount Vernon street, Philadelphia, has purchased the "E" House on Lancaster avenue, near David's Road, at Wayne, Pa., from Wendell & Smith, for $8,000.

At Frankford, Philadelphia, the Building Fund of St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal Church, now amounts to $13,500. Work will be begun on the erection of a new church edifice at Penn and Orthodox streets, early in the spring. Rev. Samuel Tweedale is the pastor.

Charles Auchter, contractor, 1523 North Thirtieth street, has a contract to erect a large ice manufactory, on west side of Charlotta, north of Poplar streets. It will be three stories high, 21x31 feet, of brick, stone trimmings and fitted with machinery for the purpose indicated.

Jacob J. Seeds, hatter, 143 N. Third street, having purchased the property of the Mikhue Israel Congregation, adjoining the synagogue, on Seventh street above Arch, will erect a factory upon the site for manufacture of hats. As yet no plans or details are arranged.

The Quaker City Yacht Club, or what is to be hereafter known as the Philadelphia Yacht Club, at the mouth of Darby Creek and the Delaware river, has bought twenty-seven acres of ground at that locality, and propose soon to erect a clubhouse, wharf and boat railway, winter storage basin and other improvements.

In an interview with Mr. William Wiler, of 225 South Fifth street, whose establishment was partially destroyed by fire on the morning of the 2d inst., we learn that he will immediately rebuild that portion destroyed and will also replace the elevator by which four men were injured in its fall. The loss is about $35,000.

William J. Shedwick & Bro., 676 North Thirty-fourth street, Philadelphia, is about to erect a number of fine three-story houses on the lot at Thirty-fourth and Haverford streets, to be of press brick, stone facings, and fitted upon the interior with all modern improvements.

Mrs. Biddle, of 1623 Walnut street, Philadelphia, has purchased ground of Joseph Hickman, adjoining Birmingham Park, on the Brandywine, near West Chester, Pa., and will erect a handsome summer cottage; also a boat-house. A number of improvements will also be made at Birmingham Park.

George W. Stewart, contractor, has been awarded the contract to erect the factory of Laird, Schober & Mitchell, and the work will be started at once, at the location, Nineteenth and Buttonwood streets, supervised by Geissinger & Hales, architects, who drew the plans. It will be four stories high, of brick, and 44x195 feet, with a wing 48x57 feet, same height.

C. C. Moore, builder, has just purchased about two or three acres of ground at Kensington avenue and Nicetown Lane; and another plot on Broad, south of Dauphin streets, upon which, during the coming season, he may place quite a number of fine houses, suitable to that locality. This, however, depends somewhat upon the spirit of the market for good houses.

The bids for alteration and addition to the Seventeenth District Station House, and the new one to be erected at Tacony, were opened on the 2d inst.; and the contract for the former was secured by James Bradley, contractor, whilst no award can be made for the latter, as the bids were beyond the amount of money appropriated for the purpose, Fred. J. Amweg's estimate being the lowest, $27,840.39; $23,000 was allowed by City Councils.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Windom, has, during the current week, sent a letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, urging early action upon the bill for an appropriation for the erection of a new United States Mint at Philadelphia. This bill is now upon the calendar with a favorable recommendation, but unless a special effort is made now, it may fail of action in the closing days of this Congress. Hence the action above noted.

Bids will be opened this week, for the erection of the new mounted police station and fire engine house, at Tacony, by the City Property Commissioner, and for which plans were prepared by Daniel S. Beale, architect, of 713 Filbert street, Philadelphia, and which have been noted by us in a previous issue. The structure will be press brick, trimmed with brownstone, and will have an ornamental front, similar to the stations at Long Lane, Federal street, and at Fourth and York streets.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has leased the old Assembly Building, Southwest corner of Tenth and Chestnut streets, and will fit it up at an early day for the purposes of the company. Considerable alteration and additions will be needed for this move. Pneumatic tubing will be introduced, steam heating and force, electric work, plumbing and gas fitting, as well as other minor details. William Gill, the general superintendent, has the matter under his charge. The present offices are at the Southeast corner Broad and South Penn Square.

On the 28th inst., ground was broken at Eighteenth and Diamond streets, for the erection of the "Geo W. South Memorial Church," and it will now be pushed forward to completion. The foundation for the immense towers was laid in the autumn of last year, and by the first of March, it is expected the entire work will be ready for the superstructure. It will be remembered, an elaborate description of this edifice was given in this journal at the time of completion of the plans. Charles M. Burns, Jr., 717 Walnut street, Philadelphia, made the drawings, and will be the supervising architect.

William T. Roberts, builder, Twenty-ninth and Thompson streets, says: "All I intend to do at present, is to start in the spring sixteen houses on the west side of Twenty-eighth street, and fifty houses on the east and west sides of Newkirk street, south of Jefferson street. I have sold the balance of the square to erect a Catholic Church, Parochial residence, school, and a residence in the rear for the teachers. This will complete the square, and completely fill up all the ground that we have out here. We are having the streets opened and paved at Rising Sun Park, but cannot say what I will be able to do there as I have made no plans at present."

The following gentlemen have been elected by the members of the Builders' Exchange, 24 South Seventh street, to serve as directors for various terms as directed by the laws of that institution: George Watson, George W. Roydhouse, John Atkinson, J. S. Thorn, F. F. Myhlertz, William H. Albertson, Charles G. Wetter, and Joseph E. Brown. The National Convention of Builders will be held in New York, February 9 to 13, the body coming to this city on the latter day to finish up its business. The Exchange here will send six delegates, six alternates and one delegate-at large. A number of members will also attend the convention and the banquet, which will be held on the evening of February 12.

John J. Cassidy, builder, has sold to S. H. Morrison, also a builder, a plot of ground for building purposes, at the Northeast corner of Mercy street and Moyamensing avenue; and another at the Southeast corner of same avenue and Emily street. Two-story houses will be erected upon these sites, with stone trimmings and all modern conveniences. Mr. Cassidy will inaugurate the building season of 1891 by a large operation of about one hundred and fifty houses, upon ground at Snyder and Moyamensing avenues and Fourth street. All the above will be of press brick, stone trimmings and fitted with electric bells, marble-faced vestibules, hard wood and plain finish, wood mantels, and good sanitary plumbing. The streets and pavements to be of artificial stone.

The following is Section 4, of the bill for the construction of the proposed Elevated Railroad down Market street:—The company securing the said permission shall build said elevated railroad throughout its entire length upon iron or steel trestles, elevated upon abutments or piers, or other supports built of iron, steel or stone, and shall leave not less than 18 feet clear headway between the under part of the trestle work and the curb line of said streets along the whole extent of the elevated railway constructed over said streets and the cross streets, within the limits specified, except on approaching the City Hall, when the said railway shall be gradually raised so as to pass over said Juniper street, South Penn Square and Broad street, at an elevation of not less than 18 feet clear headway between the under part of said trestle work and the curb line of said streets. That metal catch-pans shall be provided and placed under the structure by said company its entire length, so as to catch all drippings and falling substances. Authority is hereby given to construct iron or steel bridges or viaducts for the said railway over every street, now open or on the city plan to be hereafter opened, alley or public way which this road on the route as hereby designated crosses; and the said company may also construct at all necessary and convenient places such sidings, switches, turnouts, supports, connections, landing places, platforms, stations and all necessary and convenient appliances thereto, buildings, telegraphs and signals, and all other and requisite and convenient appliances upon said route and upon or above the grade hereby authorized of said railway, as shall be required for the convenience and rapid and safe operations of their road; and authority is hereby given for the construction of the same elevated over the streets traversed or crossed by the route of said railway. That the said telegraph lines shall be attached to the structure itself, and be used only for the transaction of the business of said railway company. The city shall have the privilege of attaching its wires to the structure without cost or compensation; that the stations on the entire line shall not be located at a greater distance than one-half of a mile apart, and that a station shall be located at the Broad Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and also a station shall be located at the Reading Terminal Railroad on Market street, and also a station shall be located at Twenty-third and Market streets, and that no siding, turnout, or any part of the said road east of Forty-third street shall be used for the storage of cars. No bituminous coal shall be used as fuel in locomotives used as a motive power. The gauge of the railway shall not exceed 4 feet and 8½ inches. Said company shall erect and maintain one arc electric light under said structure at each street crossing at its own expense.

Work on the buildings for the new Chautauqua Association, at Glen-Echo, will be commenced in a short time under the supervision of Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., of Philadelphia, who is preparing the plans. The amphitheatre will be an immense structure with a seating capacity of 8,000, and a stage which will accommodate 500 more. A number of committee rooms will be in the rear of the stage. The building will be of gray granite from quarries on the ground at Glen-Echo Heights, and will be in the form of a number of pillars and arches supporting a metal roof. Besides the amphitheatre three other lecture halls will be erected with a seating capacity of 1,200, 600 and 400 respectively, but these will be of a temporary character and will be followed by more substantial buildings in the near future. The plans are being prepared for them. At a meeting of the friends of the movement held in Foundry M E. Church, the following officers were elected:

President, Edwin Baltzley, vice president, Adam S. Pratt; Chancellor, Rev. A. H. Gillet, D. D., of Cincinnati; treasurer, Edward Baltzley, and secretary Linson de F. Jennings. There is also a Board of five Trustees, consisting of Hon. Wm. T. Harris, Dr. A. H. Gillet, A. S. Pratt, James B. Henderson and E. Baltzley. The present buildings, with the exception of the amphitheatre will be followed by substantial stone buildings for lecture halls, art school, Normal school and College. The plans also contemplate drives, walks, fountains, etc. Mr. E. Baltzley is now having a private residence erected from plans also prepared by Mr. Chandler. Mr. R. A. Charles, of Treasury Department, has a dwelling under way. It is said at least forty private residences will be erected during the spring and summer. The electric railway will soon be completed to Glen-Echo. The cars were manufactured by the J. G. Brill Company, of Philadelphia. E. & E. Baltzley, Room 7, Sun Building, Washington, D. C., can give additional information. At the Zoological Park, the foundations have been finished for a number of the proposed buildings, and proposals have been invited for the erection. Towner & Son will remodel their present building from plans prepared by A. P. Clark, Jr., 605 F street, N. W. The same architect has prepared plans for alterations to Nos. 427 and 429 Seventh street, N. W. A number of architects have been invited to submit plans for the exterior of a large granite building which the American Security and Trust Company will erect on G street, near Fourteenth street. Hobbs & Son, 520 Walnut street, Philada., are preparing plans for a large operation in West Philadelphia, for Mr. James Seabury, who has purchased from Joshua Harvey, the block bounded by Fifty-second street, Columbia avenue, Preston and Viola streets, and will erect forty-eight two-story dwellings, on Columbia avenue and nine three-story dwellings on Fifty-second street. Estimates are wanted on material for the above dwellings, for particulars of which, see our Want column.

F. Miles Day architect, 921 Chestnut street, Philada., is engaged in making drawings for a magnificent residence to be erected near Devon, Pa., for Mr. J. W. Patterson, Leather manufacturer, Margarett and New Market streets, Philada. The structure will be of light-colored stone, three-stories high, with porte cochere and verandas upon sides and front, roof to be of slate and tile, interior to be fitted in hard wood, frescoing and finest of ornamented paper, electric work, dumb waiters, speaking tubes, wood mantels, open grates, stained and plate glass, steam heat, handsome tile work in rooms and vestibule, best of modern ranges in kitchen and wash rooms. Lavatories, bath rooms and billiard rooms will be arranged and the best of sanitary plumbing, together with all modern conveniences will be introduced. The whole will cost about $60,000.

D. H. Burnham, chief of construction of the Columbian Exposition, Chicago, Ill., has requested plans for a Woman's pavilion, to be erected upon the grounds of the World's Fair. These are to be competitive and are limited to those women who are known to be in the profession, or specially trained as experts. Three prizes are offered and instructions given as to limits in preparation of the plans, which will be a crucial test of ability. The lines are drawn closely as to professional standing and ability, so that none but architects will be accepted as competitors. The successful competitor, will receive $1000 and expenses; a prize of $500 will be awarded for the next best design and $250 for the third best. All sketches will be in and completed by March 23d, 1891. In connection with the above, designs will be furnished by the only woman architect in Pennsylvania, Miss Minerva Parker, 14 S. Broad street, Philada., the above plans are in no way connected with the Isabella Pavilion, which will be designed and constructed under the supervision of the above named architect.

William Halsey Wood, of Newark, N. J., has completed the plans and had them accepted for a handsome church, to replace the burnt structure of St. Timothy's Episcopal church, New York City, on west Fifty-seventh street. The new church will also be used by the congregation of Zion church, at Thirty-eighth street and Madison avenue. The two congregations uniting. The plans call for a building in the early gothic style of architecture and the material employed will be brick, with sandstone trimmings. The principal feature of the front will be a massive tower, with pinnacles rising to a height of 110 feet. The building will also contain Sunday-school room, chapel and various rooms for social purposes. The interior will be very ornate. The timbers of the roof will be supported by a series of lofty and massive stone pillars, those at the intersection of the nave and transept, being clustered columns of great beauty. The interior walls will be finished with smooth red brick, broken at regular intervals by bands of gray brick. The furniture will also be very elaborate and handsome stained glass windows will be used. A parish house will also be erected in connection with the church. The estimated cost of the whole, is about $165,000.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. FEB. 11th, 1891.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

UNDER the proposed lien law soon to be submitted for the consideration of the Legislature by the Master Builders' Exchange, Section 1, provides that no agreement or contract made between contractor and owner shall defeat or supplant any sub-contractor in his right to file a lien for either work or materials, but sub-contractors can waive their right and consent in writing to be bound by any architect as against liens made between contractor and owner. Section 2 defines that all persons with the owner of the ground shall be decreed the agents of such owner in ordering work or materials. It is a wonder in this connection that the manufacturers of gas fixtures do not seek to place their business within the pale of the lien law.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The citizens of Lawndale, in the Thirty-fifth Ward, are agitating the subject of the erection of a new school house.

Contractors are now estimating on the plans for addition and alteration of the police and patrol station of the Twenty-fifth District, Moyamensing avenue below Dickerson street.

Michael McManus, contractor, will start work at once on the two-story addition to the school-house at the Southwest corner of Longshore and Dittman street, near Frankford.

William H. Yelland, contractor, 4212 Frankford avenue, will erect an addition to the factory on the Northeast corner of Oxford and Josephine streets, 23x33 feet, to be brick, stone trimmings.

B. Frank Livzey, contractor, 625 Walnut street, has just made preparations to begin the erection of a chapel, one-story, 60x35 feet, at Oak Lane and Mott street. Work will be started as soon as weather will permit.

Ploucher & Schoch, contractors, will at once begin the erection of a one-story warehouse, on north side of Erie avenue, west of Trenton street. It will be of brick, stone sills. The dimensions are 55x120 feet.

The contract for cast iron door and window frames and washboards for the new Congressional Library has been awarded to Tacony Iron and Metal Company, Philadelphia. The amount of contract was $68,285.

The new addition to John F. Betz's brewery, at Crown and Callowhill streets, will be started at once under the supervision of Otto C. Wolf, architect, who drew the plans, and a full description of which has been given in previous numbers of this journal.

Fred J. Amweg, contractor, 42 Lucas Building, Chestnut and Juniper streets, Philadelphia, has been awarded the contract to erect the station house and fire station at Tacony. A full description has been given by us in a previous number. Mr. Amweg will begin operations at an early day.

The plans for the proposed enlargement of the Broad street station at Broad and Market streets are approaching completion, and when carried out will make the Pennsylvania station in Philadelphia one of the largest and best equipped in the world. The proposed enlargement will be ten stories high.

Thomas H. Doan, contractor, 3827 Baring street, will at once begin the erection of an animal house and institute building, at Thirty-fourth and Locust streets; also seven dwellings on Powelton avenue, west of Thirty-third street. Material to be used in all will be press brick, stone, iron and considerable cement work.

John & James Dobson have started to erect a boiler house, engine room and other buildings upon the ground of the recently destroyed carpet mill, and will push forward until all shall be complete as before the fire. These buildings will be of brick and stone, and fitted with machinery, electric work and other appliances for their particular kind of business.

William H. Steele & Son, contractors, 2436 North Front street, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the factory of Barnes & Beyers, at the Northeast corner of Indiana avenue and Fillmore street. This building was fully described in a previous number of this journal. Geissinger & Hales will be the supervising architects, having drawn the plans for the structure.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is considering plans and details for the erection of a large grain elevator, to be located on or about Arch street and the Schuylkill River. It is the purpose of the company to establish a large grain centre at this point. The structure will cost about $500,000 when completed. Engineers have made a survey of the vacant ground for the structure.

The Board of Directors of the Master Builders' Exchange, on the 3d inst., elected officers as follows for the current year: Geo. Watson, president; Murrell Dobbins, 1st vice-president; W. H. Albertson, 2d vice-president; Franklin M. Harris, 3d vice-president. William Harkness, Jr., was re-elected secretary, and Charles H. Reeves, treasurer. Mr. George Roydhouse declined a nomination as vice-president. Jacob Janney was re-elected superintendent.

John E. Hagan, 2455 Howard street, is having plans drawn and arrangements made for the erection of a large hotel, at the Southwest corner of Front and Cumberland streets. It will be four stories high, and contain forty rooms, and will be of brick, with stone trimmings. The dimension to be 60x110 feet. Mr. Hagan will build this house to accommodate the local traffic brought to that neighborhood by the People's Theatre. The hotel will be fitted with all conveniences, electric work, etc.

We beg to return our acknowledgements for a box of fine oranges forwarded us by W. S. P. Shields, Esq., of 735 Walnut street, Phila., from his magnificent orange groves, situated at Paola, Florida, known also as "Pine Crest Inn." From the prospectus and description this is undoubtedly a perfect paradise, as health-giving influences are conceded by every one who has visited it, and it would require quite a volume to describe its many natural advantages. Mr. Shields returns to us in robust health and his usual buoyant spirits.

James M. Seabury, builder, has just purchased a large plot of ground at Fifty-second street station, P. R. R. and George's Hill, and a large piece on Columbia avenue and Viola street, fronting on Fifty-second street. He will at once begin the erection of fifty-seven two and three-story houses upon the latter named street, to be trimmed with stone, with porches extending in front, interiors to be fitted with all modern improvements. It is the intention of the builder to erect houses upon the entire purchase during the season.

A. H. Williams & Sons, contractors, 402 Tenor Place, has been awarded the general contract to erect the large warehouse at Sixteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue for the Pennsylvania Warehouse and Safe Deposit Company. Mr. George Roydhouse will construct the bricklaying and mason work, whilst the whole will be under the supervision of T. Mellon Rogers, architect, 1122 Walnut street, who drew the plans. Work will begin at an early day. A full description of this structure has been given in Architectural Notes of former numbers.

Frank A. Souder, of Atlantic City, N. J., has received the contract to erect the large hotel, "Carisbrooke Inn," and three additional cottages at that place, for the Camden and Atlantic and Ventnor Land Company. These will be located just beyond South Atlantic City, and the plans for which have been fully described in a former issue. Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut street, Philadelphia, made the drawings, and will supervise the construction. The main features introduced will be steam heat, electric work, large ranges, special sanitary plumbing, in fact, all modern conveniences. The contract must be completed by June 15, 1891.

Dr. William Pepper, Mr. Sidney W. Keith and other leading gentlemen of the Assembly of Philadelphia, are considering the feasibility of erecting some sort of a building in the heart of the city which can be utilized by them for their entertainments and balls, as the foyer of the Academy of Music, where these have heretofore been given, has proven too small, and therefore objectionable to a great number. The question of a site and kind of building is now more than ever being agitated by those interested in the matter, since Mr. Jno. M. Sharp secured the location originally wanted at Broad and Locust streets. No doubt the matter will crystallize itself into practical shape if a good location and conditions offers themselves.

As noted in this journal some weeks since, the new Century Club will erect a handsome club-house at no distant day. The building committee has decided upon the site, and at the meeting held at the club rooms in the Baker Building, 1520 Chestnut street, on Wednesday of last week, announced that the properties 124 and 126 South Twelfth street, had been secured. The architect of the proposed new club-house, Minerva Parker, 14 South Broad street, addressed the meeting on that occasion. The stock company is to be known as the New Century Company, and the capital stock is $50,000, divided into two thousand shares, of $25 each; and all the stock must be held by women who are members of the New Century Club. The proposed building will be three stories high, of vitrified brick, with stone trimmings, similar to the Philadelphia Art Club building. The dimensions will be 40 by about 94 feet, and a large fire escape will be erected in the rear. A flight of broad stone steps will lead to the handsomely finished hallway, in which will be placed a magnificent stairway of hard wood. The lower floor will be fitted up for the use of the Philadelphia Exchange for Woman's Work, now at 1602 Chestnut street, and also for directors' rooms, library, etc. The second floor will contain a handsome assembly room, to be completely fitted up for dramatic, musical and social purposes. There will also be complete kitchen arrangements. The seating capacity of the assembly room will be about five hundred. The third floor will contain janitor's rooms, etc. The interior will be handsomely finished with cabinet mantels, open fire places, etc., and all modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced. The work of demolishing the old buildings at 124 and 126 South Twelfth street, will be commenced about March 1, and it is the intention to have the club-house completed by October 1, 1891.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well."

"Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. FEB. 18th, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

It must be particularly gratifying to the members of the Master Builders' Exchange, of Philadelphia, to know that the Trade School established by them is one of the few successful schools of the kind in the country. According to the report of Secretary Sayward, read at the National Builders' Fifth Annual Convention, held in New York last week, the attempt to establish these schools by many of the Exchanges has been attended with dire disaster. A few, however, have been successful, and among them we are glad to find that Philadelphia's school stands high.

The Baltimore and Philadelphia Railroad has purchased a plot of ground on the east side of Mount Moriah Lane, southeast of Langton Place, and will erect a station for the accommodation of patrons at that point.

Northminster Presbyterian Church, Thirty-fifth and Baring streets, Philadelphia, will have considerable improvements made during the coming spring, and for which about $4,000 has been raised. Rev. Robert H. Fulton, D.D., is the pastor in charge.

Major Raymond, Corps Engineer, U. S. A., has forwarded the bids for improving the Delaware harbor opposite Philadelphia to the department at Washington, and in his letter he recommends that the contract be awarded to the American Dredging Company as its bid was the lowest.

An ordinance has passed both branches of Councils, for opening Wyoming avenue, from D street to Orthodox street, Frankford. This shortens the road between Germantown and Frankford materially and opens up a large tract of ground already sold for building purposes, and enhances the value of that which remains upon the market. It is likely the grading and curbing will be contracted for at an early date.

The building committee of the Runnymede Club, at Lansdowne, Pa., has awarded the contract for the erection of its club-house at that place, to T. Nearly all the prominent German-Americans of that locality are included in the list of members.

The Masons of Camden, N. J., are considering the matter of erecting a large building upon the site of the old Federal street market house, corner Fifth and Federal streets, and upon which they have secured an option at $35,000. They propose to include a theatre and stores upon the first and part of the second floors, while the remainder will be divided up into lodge rooms for Blue Lodge, Royal Arch Chapter, and Commandery.

E. corner of the same streets, a lot, 78 x 294 feet, upon which he will erect during the coming season quite a large number of two and three-story houses, which will be in keeping with others erected by the same builder in that vicinity.

The opponents of the Market Street Elevated Bill and its advocates, were before Mayor Fitler on the 11th inst., each arguing their particular interests. The latter were by far the strongest in point of numbers, and were further strengthened by the demand of a large majority of the people. The Committee of Operative Builders alone represented property valued up in the millions. The committee consisted of William C. Merritt, Thomas G. Hunter, J. H. Virkler, William Conway and J. C. Moore.

Plans are being prepared and arrangements made for the erection of a number of dwellings on Lancaster avenue and Thirty-fourth and Filbert streets; sixteen will be erected on Lancaster avenue, to be of brick, and to contain thirteen rooms, with all conveniences; eight on Thirty-fourth street, to be of brick, three stories high, and to contain eight rooms; and eleven two-story, six-room brick dwellings on Filbert street, to contain modern improvements, A. L. Lecture, 3903 Lancaster avenue, can give further particulars.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. FEB. 25th, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE American Trust, Loan and Guarantee Investment Company now occupies its new and handsomely-appointed quarters at the Southwest corner of Broad street and Ridge avenue. The present building was designed by Baker & Dallett, the well-known architects of this city, and is a model of comfort and excellence for the purpose for which it was designed. The President of the company is Thomas C. Else; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles F. Kolb, and the Solicitor, George S. Graham.

THE Staunton Development Company, of Staunton, Va., has issued a most artistically designed brochure, under the title of "Staunton, its Past, Present and Future." It is filled with beautifully executed views of Staunton and vicinity, its public buildings, educational institutions, private residences, industrial works, etc., and is well worth a careful examination, both for pleasure and information. The company is represented in Philadelphia, by D. Z. Evans, Jr. N. E. corner Fifth and Chestnut streets.

DURING the past year the most gratifying results have been obtained in the increased volume of business done by "The Citizens' Trust and Surety Company," 716 Chestnut street. The deposits have almost doubled themselves. The loan department has also enlarged its list of borrowers on collateral securities and mortgages, whilst the insurance upon titles to real estate and investments, and the faithful performance of contracts, has gone beyond expectations. These facts speak well for the careful management of the above institution, by the officers chosen.

At the present exhibition at the Academy of Fine Arts, a number of Philadelphia architects are represented, although the number is much smaller than one has a right to expect from so many architects capable of good work who live in Philadelphia. The room devoted to architectural drawings, seemed to be a great point of interest to the many who were in the Academy on the day of the writer's visit, and from the close attention which the drawings received, and the discriminating remarks made by the viewers, it is safe to say that the work is appreciated by the public. The only drawback being that more architects are not represented, both from this city and elsewhere. Among the Philadelphia architects who contributed sketches are Harrison Albright, George T. Pearson, Charles M. Burns, Wilson Eyre, Jr., Frank Miles Day, Brown & Day, Cope & Stevenson, John Ord and Mr. Prichett.

ON January 26, 1891, there died at Cologne, Dr. N. Aug. Otto, a man whose career exemplifies to a wonderful degree, the possibilities of a life actuated by perseverance and energy, combined with skill and ingenuity. Dr. Otto began life as a commercial traveller, a position little adapted to his genius, but which did not deter him from reducing his theories to practical shape the consummation of which, was a real practical gas engine, which in conjunction with Eugene Langer, he exhibited at the Paris Exposition in 1867. The chief drawback of the new engine, was the noise, which was finally overcome nine years later, by the introduction of the "Otto Silent." This in turn was subjected to manifold improvements by the inventor and Messrs Crossley, before reaching its present state of perfection. The history of the principles of the gas engine, covers a period of at least two hundred years and many brilliant names are associated with the subject; but it remained for Dr. Otto to crystalize his own and others theories, into practical shape with the results just cited. Dr. Otto was a man esteemed by all who knew him. He was not trained as an engineer, but made himself one, by hard work and study, and his achievements prove his great theoretical knowledge, mechanical dexterity and fertility of resources.

Having made substantial additions to its Philadelphia foundry, the Abram Cox Stove Company, with a new foundry at Lansdale, Pa., rebuilt since the fire just a year ago, has now two of the most modern and complete foundries in the country, being fully equipped with the most modern appliances for the special business of the company; in fact the capability of the firm for producing, is only surpassed in excellence by its Novelty Stoves, Ranges and Furnaces, which through sheer force of surpassing merit have won a popularity and established a reputation that is unequalled throughout the entire United States. Builders' wants are, at this time, occupying the interest of this progressive house, and with a view to more fully meet the various requirements, the old reliable "Novelty" Hot Air Furnace, fresh from another competitive campaign, is stronger than ever in the popular demand. The "Splendid Novelty" Furnace has now successfully demonstrated that though much cheaper, it is more than equal in excellence to many that are claimed to be first class, and is well worthy of adoption by the builder who holds his houses for investment. Examine the plan for heating small houses in connection with it. That pioneer of the new class ranges with horizontal boiler, the "Model Novelty" has passed through a harder fight to secure popularity than any article of equal merit ever made, but the universal appreciation of its excellence is of overwhelming strength, in that it has effectually supplanted old time favorites. The "Home Novelty" Range is a later edition in the same style suited to cheaper buildings but of the same high grade for construction and operation that characterizes all the productions of this reliable house.

A strong movement is being made among the profession of architects, in New York and this city, to promote the interests of those who are, or may become students of architecture, by raising a permanent fund for the purpose of sending abroad promising pupils, to study the works of art in the old world. The proposition of Mr. T. A. Chandler, of New York and some of the leading architects of this city, is to allow the sum of $900 per year, for five years, provided however, that the recipients show sufficient proficiency to warrant their retention for the whole period, if not satisfactory, notice to be served by the Board of Supervisors of the fund, that such payment would cease at end of the current year. Thousands of dollars in profit have been made by those who caught on to this idea years ago. Your economy that prompted the saving of five dollars per year by refusing to subscribe, has cost you many a cool hundred. ## Men who Build HOUSES

Need To Buy Ranges!

If they themselves occupy them of course the ranges should be good ones. If they intend selling or renting them good ranges in the kitchen will help the Builder or Owner to sell or rent to better advantage. In either case

"Excelsior" or the
"Fidelity?"

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Prop'r.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. MAR. 11th, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

At Chester Chester Co. S. C., a proposition has been made by Paul Hemphill, representing a stock company, to construct water works and to put up an electric light plant.

A COMPARISON of building operations, between the month of February, 1890, and the same month of 1891, shows a considerable falling off in the construction of two and three-story dwellings. In February of 1890, permits were taken out for the erection of 541 two-story and 141 three-story dwellings, against 217 two-story and 115 three-story dwellings for which permits were issued during February, 1891, a falling off of 324 two-story and 26 three-story dwellings. Although a number of circumstances has conspired to bring about this reduction in the work of construction, there is a general feeling that the coming of fine weather will bring about a great revival of building in all directions. A number of important operations were begun during February, among which are a police and a patrol station, at an estimated cost of $36,000 and $30,000 respectively; a chapel, at $5,000; the Hygienic Buildings of the University of Pennsylvania, which will be erected at an estimated cost of about $75,000; the Empire Theatre, on South Broad street, the cost of which will be about $175,000; a large addition to Betz's brewery, to cost $10,000; a number of factories, at a cost of $90,000, and the immense warehouse of the Pennsylvania Warehousing and Safe Deposit Company, which will cost, when complete, about $200,000. Thus it will be seen that building has not been, by any means, at a standstill, and that quite a number of large and important operations have been started, notwithstanding reports to the contrary on the part of some of the dailies.

also prepare the plans and supervise the construction.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well."

"Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

The provision for the filling in of League Island proved, after consideration, of such importance to the Government, that it was deemed advisable to accept none of the bids offered. As they stood, the bids were as follows: American Dredging Company, $3,919,200; National Dredging Company, $3,429,900; Penn Dredging Company, $3,232,950. Under its bid the last-named company proposed to fill in League Island with the dredgings of the islands to be removed. This provision caused the change in the law which makes new specifications necessary.

Men who Build HOUSES

Need To Buy Ranges!

If they themselves occupy them of course the ranges should be good ones. If they intend selling or renting them good ranges in the kitchen will help the Builder or Owner to sell or rent to better advantage. In either case to put in cheap ranges of no particular reputation, when a mere trifle in the way of additional expense would provide the

Does it Pay

"Excelsior" or the "Fidelity?"

FIDELITY RANGES.

7 and 8 inches, Right and Left Hand.

Just the thing for small Houses. No brick-work. Plumbing reduced to a trifle, Hot Water in abundance. The latest and the best of their class.

St Paul's M. E. church, Rev John H. Wood, pastor, will be extensively improved during the coming summer.

The lot on Snyder avenue, recently donated to the Snyder Avenue Mission of the Episcopal Church, will shortly be utilized as the site for a parish building, to be used as a chapel and Sunday-school room. A fund is now being raised for the erection of the proposed building.

The contract to erect a hall by the Italian Society, of which Frank Cuneo is the president, on West side of Eighth street, South of Christian, has been given to J. H. Jordan, and work upon the structure has begun. It will be 30x58 feet, three stories high, of brick, stone trimmings, and fitted with modern conveniences.

Fairmount Park Commissioners have asked the Legislature for an appropriation to place Memorial Hall in a better condition and to make certain alterations, additions and repairs. A Committee of the Legislature paid a visit to the Hall on the 21st instant and were chaperoned by the Commissioners to acquire a knowledge of the immediate wants.

The Manufacturer's Club-house, on Walnut street, will be further improved by the erection of a winter garden on the roof. The entire space will be enclosed by heavy glass and iron railings. The improvements will be in charge of Hazlehurst & Huckel, 410 Walnut street, Phila., who designed the building, as it now stands.

The contract for the erection of the new plant of the Columbia Stove Company, in Camden, N. J., has been awarded to William Allibone, of Philadelphia. The various buildings will be completed by August 1, 1891, when the company will take possession and begin operation. The Philadelphia address of the company is Steel, Van Rossum, 1625-1635 N. Fifth street.

A new bridge will be erected over Cobb's Creek, west of Angora, Phila., by the Central Division of the P, W. & B. R. R. It will be a double tracked iron structure, supported by two abutments and three pairs of iron trestles; the latter being about 40 feet high, resting on stone piers. Work will be commenced within a few weeks. It will be about 270 feet long.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock contractors, 305 Walnut street, have received the contract to erect the large new business house of F. A. Ballinger, 218 N. Thirteenth street and for which plans were drawn by Albert W. Dilks architect, 1001 Chestnut street, who will supervise the work of construction. A full description of the above building, appeared in a previous issue of this journal.

The work of establishing a general trade exchange, has now assumed tangible shape and the first instalment of money, about $100,000, has been paid in for the purpose of securing the charter. Mr. George E. Bartol and others are interested in the work and the chances are favorable for a successful prosecution of the work at an early day. The question of a suitable site is now being considered, after which plans will be called for and estimates considered.

Joseph H. Jefferis, No. 227 South Front street, Phila., has bought a lot from George P. Fallon, at Wayne, upon which he intends soon to construct a handsome residence for himself. Harry McClintock, of Wayne, has bought a lot from Sylvester Garrett, on Wayne avenue, and intends soon to build a house. W. H. Gayer will build two cottages at Saint David's this spring. Plans have been made by F. Mellon Rogers, 1122 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

The Art School of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art, on Spring Garden street, was visited last week by the Legislative Committee on Appropriations, with a view of making an appropriation for needed improvements. The school has applied for $40,000, for a new building. The Zoological Garden has applied for $50,000 for a new monkey and a new rhinoceros house. The Park Commissioners have asked for $100,000 for Memorial Hall improvements.

The nucleus of a branch to the American Employers Liability Company, of New York, was organized at the Builder's Exchange, in Philadelphia, on the 19th inst. Messrs. Crane and McCray, of New York City, were present at a meeting of the executive committee of the Philadelphia Exchange and explained its benefits when a large amount of stock was at once subscribed for and a general chance will be afforded others at the next meeting of the Exchange, on the 29th inst. The object is to protect, or to insure employers against losses by reason of accident in loss of limb and life of employees, in course of prosecution of their business.

Washington, D. C.

The new building of the Ohio National Bank, will be erected, from plans prepared by James G. Hill, Corcoran Building. The handsome residences will be erected at the Palisades on the Potomac, from plans prepared by Richard Ough, one for J. P. Clark, of Baltimore, marble, slate roof and modern improvements. Cost $25,000; the second, from plans by same architect, for John C. Hurst, for $10,000, of press brick and brownstone, slate roof, tiled gables, steam heat, etc. Mr. Ough will erect one for himself, of similar style and like cost. A residence will be erected for Dr. C. M. N. Latimer, at 3325 N street, from plans prepared by James F. Denson. A stock company is being formed for the purpose. Mr. A. M. Gorman, 608 Thirteenth street, N.W., can give additional information.

Through Delaware.

Hollis, has been appointed superintendent of the construction of the new Post-office, bids for which, see in our want column. The plans are now on exhibition at the office of the superintendent, the Builder's Exchange and at the offices of Beggs & Almond and Alvan Allen. At the last meeting of Council, the resolution was passed favoring action on part of the Legislature, to authorize Council to borrow $500,000, for improvements to the city of various kinds. The directors of the Y. M. C. A., are considering the advisability of purchasing the property which is now occupied by the Association and the two adjoining properties, which would make a lot with a frontage of 40 feet on Market street. If the ground is purchased it is the intention of the Association to erect a handsome building. The estimated cost of the entire operation, is estimated at $125,000. A special feature of the new hall would be a large gymnasium. There would also be a large assembly room and reading rooms.

Do you intend building ?

If so, it will pay you to investigate the subject of Terra Cotta.

Here are some of the reasons why :

First—Because it is the strongest building material in the world.

Second—Because it is the lightest material, easy to handle, and easily fashioned to any shape.

Third—Because it is not only the most durable, but the most indestructible of materials. Fire will not destroy it, nor water penetrate it, nor time rot it.

Fourth—Because it is beautiful in color, and capable of being molded into every conceivable design.

Fifth—Because while it has innumerable advantages over every other building material, its cost is infinitely less in every way.

Good, solid reasons, are they not ?

If you are interested, call on, or write for catalogue to.

As yet it has not been decided whether a general contract covering the whole of the work shall be given to one person or a number of them given to separate bidders. ### Building and Real Estate Notes.

The managers of the Maternity Hospital, in their financial report for the past year, urge the necessity of a new building, to contain laundry and bath rooms, for patients and servants.

A. B. Millett, builder, will erect twenty-six, two-story houses on the north and south sides of Richfield, west of Thirteenth street, they will be of press brick, stone trimming and modern conveniences.

William Weightman, has as a matter of investment, purchased two properties on Broad street, the one 906 and the other, located 95 feet north of Poplar, each lot is 30x160 feet, with front on each street.

The Berkshire Manufacturing Company, located on Church street, Frankford, intends to enlarge their plant so as to give space for about two hundred additional looms. This will require an entire story upon the old mill.

The committee on plans and improvements of the Park Commission, has authorized chief engineer Thayer, to prepare plans for a river wall and drive from the Falls wooden bridge, to the Falls stone bridge.

Thomas Keymouth, inventor and manufacturer of sanitary specialties, has fitted up with sanitary wares, fine show rooms, at No. 3876 Lancaster avenue, which is under the management of A. L. Lecture.

A charter has been granted to the La Roche Electric Works, of Philadelphia, with a capital of $100,000. The directors are Alfred I. Du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., Frederick A. La Roche, P. Reinbalter and others.

Doyle & Doak builders, 151 Moravian street will begin the erection of a row of twenty-six, two-story houses on Sixth street south of Moore street, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings and best of modern conveniences, etc.

A meeting of citizens has been held to organize a movement to secure the erection of a new School house, on the old School house lot at Fox Chase, Philadelphia, Rev Samuel J. Milliken, pastor of the Presbyterian church, can give information.

T. Frank Shuster, 812 Noble street, is estimating for the erection of three pavilions, at the Baptist orphanage, in West Philadelphia. Mr. Shuster has the contract to erect a six-story factory, at Twenty-third and Arch streets, the estimated cost of which, is $90,000.

McCoach & Johnson builders, will at once start to build six fine three-story houses, on Forty-eighth street, north of Springfield avenue. Each will be 24x46 feet in size, of dark press brick stone trimmings, and best of modern improvements.

M. A. Murray, will at once begin the erection of a fine three-story dwelling, on east side of Broad street, north of Susquehanna avenue, to be fitted with all modern conveniences; Also a two-story stable in the rear, upon the same lot. The house will be 20x80 feet and stable, 21x43 feet.

W. T. B. Roberts builder, having now secured all the ground formerly known as Rising Sun Park, will improve it by the erection of quite a large operation of two-story houses and will for that purpose, cut some new streets, the dwellings will be in keeping with those now built in that vicinity.

The Phillip J. Ritter Conserve Company, have acquired titles to a number of properties on Sepviva street, and which adjoins their present plant on Dauphin street. These have been secured with a view of making additions at an early day for which details are not as yet completed.

Joseph McElroy, 205 S Sixth street, has sold J. H. Virkler the builder, the large lot owned by the Sheep Brokers Association, on Lancaster avenue, West Philadelphia and extending back to Merion avenue. The dimensions are 363x186 feet. Mr Virkler will improve the property by the erection of a number of dwellings.

At a meeting of the employees of the Peerless Brick Company, held on the 26th inst., a public denial was authorized of the statement, that the employees contemplate a strike for higher wages. This was done in view of the fact, that the company neither diminishes its force nor the wages, at any season of the year.

The Board of Trustees Williamson school, has concluded to erect three more dormitories, similar to those now being built. They will be of stone, three-stories high, with a capacity for twenty-four boys and two attendants each. They are now receiving applications for admission.

Also best of sanitary plumbing and gas fitting, electric bells and all modern conveniences.

Plans have been made and approved, for erection of the Penna. Railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. Building, at Fortieth street and P. R. R. It will contain lecture hall, reading room, library, class rooms, gymnasium, baths, lounging rooms, etc. Information may be had of the General Association, or the Penna. R. R., at their offices.

It is at present probable, that the new building of the Young Men's Christian Association, at Germantown, will be commenced during the Spring season, as the necessary amount of $50,000, is now in view, $16,000, being upon the credit side of their bank account. A full description of this structure appeared in Architectural Notes of this journal.

In an interview with a representative of David S. Cresswell, 812 Race street, whose establishment was destroyed by fire on the 28th inst., we learn that as yet matters are in so unsettled a condition that no conclusion has been reached about rebuilding. The insurance is not adjusted and other matters as well, render any direct prediction in regard to the firm's intentions impossible.

The Medico Chirurgica Hospital, on Cherry near Eighteenth street, are asking contributions from the charitably disposed, to enable them to complete the new structure now in course of erection. It is estimated that $25,000 can be utilized in heating and ventilating apparatus, elevator, diet kitchen, etc., these additions will be made when the money shall have been subscribed.

A re-organization of the North Eastern Elevated Railroad, was effected on the 26th inst., and Mr. Frederick B. Esler, was elected president. Among the co-workers and supporters of the project, will be found some of the most eminent merchants and business men of the city, James A. Wright, John B. Stetson, T. S. Sweatman and Frank H. Hain, who has been quite a successful manager of some of the New York city elevated roads. It is proposed to extend the road from Tacony to League Island, also a branch road to Jenkintown, Pa.

Advance copies of the specifications for re-bidding on the great work of removing the islands in the Delaware river, opposite the city, are now received and in the office of U. S. Engineers. An addition is made to the former directions, which stipulates that all debris removed shall be deposited upon the surface of League Island. Outside of this, there is no particular difference. The bids are to be returned to U. S. Engineers office, by 11 o'clock, A. M., April 9, 1891. The amount now available for the work is $690,000.

The Fahnestock property, at Eighteenth and Arch streets, has been purchased by the Women's Christian Association. This move has been made necessary by the new terminal of the Reading Road, as the property stands directly in the line of that improvement. It is said that new buildings will be erected and the scope of the work much extended. Among the proposed new features, will be a school for girls in cooking and domestic service. The association will have temporary quarters at 1518 Arch street. The old buildings will be demolished by the Terminal company, in about three weeks.

We are authorized by the Columbia Iron Foundry Company, 1625 N. Fifth street, to say that the reported award of contract for erection of their new plant in Camden, N. J., is erroneous, the plans for the new structure have been completed for estimates and contemplate quite a number of buildings, as the ground covers about four acres and among the structures to be erected are a ware room, 50x200 feet, two-story, a shipping house 50x50 feet, two-story, in which will be located all the offices of the company and they will be finished in hard woods. A machine shop and mounting room, 50x175 feet, two-story high, cleaning house, boiler and engine room, which will be supplied by about 100 horse power, a smith shop, carpenter and pat-house; also fire-proof ware room for preserving patterns. The large foundry will be 102x150 feet and attached will be core ovens and room 70x25 feet, located in the ware rooms will be a freight lift or elevators, two sidings, supply and shipping, will be laid from main tracks of West Jersey R. R. Plant is bounded by Jackson, Sixth streets and W. J. R. R., the plans for the above, were prepared by Eldridge & Stewart, builders.

"The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner."

Less than half a century ago, America repudiated Terra Cotta as a building material.

To-day the finest buildings in the States are ornamented with it.

The change—why?

Simply that common-sense overcame prejudice—there's the whole thing in a nutshell.

Terra Cotta is superior to other building materials in

STRENGTH, LIGHTNESS, DURABILITY and BEAUTY.

But, of course, there is good and bad Terra Cotta. The bad is not worth using. The good is water-proof, fire-proof and time-proof, indestructible either by the elements or age.

Communicate with us for special designs and prices. With our increased facilities we can offer advantages that cannot be equaled in point of quality, price and convenience of shipment and delivery. Catalogue free.

ADAMANT WALL PLASTER THE BEST.

HARD, STRONG AND DURABLE.

JAS. T. ALLEN & SON,

212 S. Tenth Street.

PHILADELPHIA.

Oh, for a material to resist fire!

Iron is warped and twisted by the heat; stone shells and splits; granite succumbs to the devouring element.

Terra Cotta is fire proof, water-proof, and time-proof, capable of resisting flames, floods and futurity. It is lighter, stronger, prettier, better and cheaper than stone.

Capitals, columns, friezes, cornices, pedestals, panels, fretwork and the most delicate tracery can be readily molded from this material. Where there are many pieces of one design they can be turned out in less than half the time it would take to carve stone. Being a light material it costs less in freight. Having a prettier appearance it gives better satisfaction, and being a safer material it is rapidly coming into popularity for use in large and important buildings.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

I am having a House Built.

I consulted several architects and got their opinions—They differed.

But I said I wanted my house to be exceptionally strong, yet light.—It had to be absolutely fire-proof, and able to resist the ravages of time and the elements.

Moreover I wanted it beautiful in appearance.

My last stipulation was that it should not be high-priced.

Terra Cotta was suggested by several architects.

To the best of these I gave instructions to build. I knew he was right in all his views.

The structure is rising rapidly, it is a marvel of beauty and strength, and the bills are much lower than I expected.

The material was ordered from
